dministration is Collecting Evi dence of This Scheme-Inspire Cable Dispatches to Newspapers Seeds of Suspicion Sown.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, April 21.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sun's Washington spe cial says there was some talk at to day's Cabinet meeting which indicated that the administration had discovered a plot on the part of anti-expansion at in the United States to cause trouble in the Philippines of a character not hith-tito unticipated.

Particulars of what the administraion knows of this alleged treasonable attempt are not obtainable, but there s reason to believe that it was based on the idea that the annexation sentiment could be weakened by causing dissatisfaction among the volunteers now serving under Gen. Otis with the hoped-for results that the regulars alone would not be able to cope with the military situation. The effect of this would be to impress the people of the United States with the idea that the Filipino insurrection could not be suppressed. It is said the administration has obained possession of some telegrams that were sent to the Philippines by people in this country for the purpose of creating a mutinous spirit among the volunteers, because they had not een sent home immediately after the declaration of peace between Spain and the United States. The administration it is stated, does not contemplate prosecuting the authors of this movement on a charge of treason, but rather desires to collect sufficient evidence to make

Gen. Otis recently telegraphed the War Department that the volunteers all wantedto remain in the Philippines while there was fighting to do. Morrecently there has been a change of least it has been reported to the govrnment that they were dissatisfied and vanted to come home. It was hinted today that this dissatisfaction was to ome extent traceable to a movement that had originated and was being carried on in this country.

The suspicion of the administration has also been excited by dispatches bearing Manila and Hongkong date lines, published in American newspapers that have represented a bad state of affairs in the islands with respect to the military campaigns against Aguinaldo's forces. It has been noticed by the authorities here that the dispatche of that character have not been sent out by correspondents of English and other foreign newspapers, who would mation about disquieting conditions.

administration knows can be obtained for publication, it is evident, to say the least, that seeds of suspicion have been sown in the minds o fthose close to the President, and sensational developments are not improbable.

NINE THOUSAND REGULARS HAVE BEEN SELECTED.

Five Thousand More Will Be Easy to Secure-To ps at Manila, on the Way and Ordered to Sail. Disposition of Forces.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 21.—A special to he Tribune from Washington says that nearly nine thousand regulars of the 14,000 that the President has deter-mined to order to Gen. Otis during the coming summer have been practically selected, and no difficulty is appre-hended by the War Department au-thorities in securing the remaining 5000 by the time they are needed.

The excellent outlook in Porto Rico and Cuba will, in all likelihood, permit the withdrawal of four more regiment rom those islands before the summer is over, and the 5000 thus obtained will fill the requirements, either by being sent forward directly to Manila, or by relieving domestic garrisons for service across the Pacific. The lack of transportation facilities constitutes the reatest problem, but Gen. Otis fortunately does not require more than 30,000 troops during the summer, and by the time he does need the remaining five time he does need the remaining five thousand they will be ready for him, and the ships will be available to transport them.

Adpt. Gen. Corbin, upon whim devolves the responsibility of furnishing all the military forces required in the island, has prepared the following tabulated statement which shows at a glance the troops at the disposal of Gen. Other.

ulated statement which shows at a glance the troops at the disposal of Gen. Otis:

Troops now at Manila: Third Artillery, four batteries, 120 men each, 480. Sixth Artillery, two batteries, 120 men each, 480. Sixth Artillery, two batteries, 120 men each, 40; Fourth Cavalry, six troops, 100 men each, 600; Third, Fourth, Twelfth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-second, Twenty-third Infantry, eight regiments of 1378 men each, 11.024; Fourteenth Infantry, ten companies and band, 1144; total number of men, 13,488.

Troops now at sea: Ninth Infantry, 1378; Twenty-first Infantry, 1378; three batteries of light artillery, 360; six batteries of Sixth Artillery, 960; total number of men, 4076.

Troops ordered to sail: Thirteenth Infantry, April 27, 1378; sixth Infantry, about May 5, 1378; Sixteenth Infantry, about May 7, 1378; total number of men, 4134; grand total, 21,698.

about May 7, 1378; total number of men, 4134; grand total, 21,698.

Following the departure of these three regiments, about 3000 recruits now gathernig at San Francisco, must next be transported to Manila to fill the regiments already in the Philippines to their full complement of 1378 in the case of infantry, and of 1600 in the case of artillery. After this is accomplished, which is not expected to be much earlier than the middle of June, the 9000 additional troops, consisting of three regiments of infantry, two of artillery, one of cavalry and two extra companies of the Fourteenth Infantry, soon to be relieved in Alaska, will be under orders to follow. The First Artillery will be equipped as infantry, though possibly one of the batteries will be furnished with field pleces. Like its light batteries, which have already been ordered to Manila, the heavy batteries of this regiment are distributed along the South Atlantic and Gulf coasts. They will be relieved by a rearrangement of the other five artillery regiments, and as in the case of the posts left by the Seventh Artillery, modified detachments will take care of the valuable guns and other property.

Los Angeles People and Other Westerners Caught.

Worked and How Easily it Was Done-Promoter Has Gene' Congenial Parts Unknown.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, April 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World says that Dr H. Hogelsburg caught in his expensive little Wall-street game over 400 would-be investors, scattered all over the country. San Francisco, Los Ange-les and other California cities, and Chi-cago, Cleveland and Louisville are about the heaviest losers.

Fifteen months ago Dr. Hogelsburg came here from Wilmington, where he had a practice • as an oculist, and pened his brokerage business. He was the head and front of the Investors' Guarantee and Trust Company, which had handsomely-appointed offices in the Lords Court building, Exchange Place and William street. The concern was labelled as a stock, grain and provision brokerage corpora-tion, and was incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, with a capital of $1,000,000. The company pretended to deal in the very highest class of dividend-paying securities and promised returns of not less than 1 per cent. a The Investors' Guarantee Company advertised extensively in the out-of town papers, and customers came in a flood. They sent money for invest-ment ranging in amounts from $200 to $2000, and the company's books showed the names of 400 customers. All namher investigation.

Saturday last the doctor and his charming wife, who acted as his aman-uensis, completely disappeared. Ru-mors placed them in Europe. Before his disappearance, however. Hogelsburg addressed a circular to all his cus-tomers to the effect that the company (himself) was entirely destitute, through no fault of his own. The circular was very optimistic, Hogelsburg declaring that full restitution would be made shortly. The scheme itself was one of the slickest of the kind ever disclosed. It is supposed that Hogelsburg got away with at least $500,000, if not more, and this mostly from the western cities.

were loud and sincere in their expressions.

Although the court officers prevented the cheering in the courtroom, their jurisdiction did not extend to the corridors of the City Hall and the first group of men who left the courtroom sent up a mighty shout, which was taken up and repeated by the crowds gathered just outside the "dead line" drawn by the watchmen, beyond which only possessors of tickets were allowed to pass. As soon as ex-Senator Quay could get away from those anxious to shake his hand and congratulate him, he made his way, accompanied by his coupsel, to the elevator to descend to the street from the sixth floor of the municipal building.

The avenue surrounding the City Hall is wide and smooth, and the neighborhood is nue surrounding the City Hall is wide and smooth, and the neighborhood is the stamping ground for the politicians of the town. Here the enthusiasm awas immense as the ex-Senator emerged from the door of the building. A group of enthusiasts rushed forward and attempted to hoist him onto their shoulders, but the ex-Senator waived them back, saying, "Oh, no! Oh, no! Tm too old a man for that."

Ex-Senator Quay walked with his friends one block down Broad street to the office of his counsel, where he made his escape from the surging crowd. It is understood that he will at once join his family in Washington, and will probably go away for a long rest.

Previous to the announcement of the verdict, the accused man sat in his accustomed geat in the courtroom and chatted with counsel and a group of reporters. He was in good spirits, probably owing to the prevalent rumor that only one of the jurors was holding out against him. He looked well, and said that he felt better than he had for some months. When the jurymen had taken their seats in the box the Senator turned and half faced them. The stereotyped "How say you, gentlemen of the jury: do you find the prisoner at the bar guility or not guility?" brought promptly were taken before the final decision was reached.

Ex-Senator Quay's only comment on the verdict was: "Well, I expected it." The case went to the jury at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and four ballots were taken before the final decision was reached.

After the crowd left the courtroom, Dist.-Atty. Rothermel was questioned regarding the remaining indictments. He said there are three still pending, but he would not say what his course would be regarding them. The indictments charge Ex-Senator Quay with conspiracy with Hopkins and Haywood, as he was in the one under which he was today acquitted.

In the remaining indictment he is charged with conspiracy jointly with his son. Richard R. Quay. This charge grew out of the loan of $100,000 to the young Quay, obtained through a deposit of that much of the State money in the People's Bank. Ex-Senator Quay's lawyers say the District Attorney picked out the indictment on which he could make the best case for the trial just concluded, and he will not dare bring the Ex-Senator Oney.

Gov. Stone Claims the Power to Fill A Vacancy.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.,) April 21.—Im-mediately on receipt of the news that x-Senator Quay was acquitted of the charges against him, Gov. Stone ap-pointed him United States Senator to fill the wacancy until the next Legisla-ture meets, and notified Vice-President

"Sir: By the power vested in me as executive of the State of Pennsylvania, and under article 1, clause 3, section 3, of the Constitution of the United States, I hereby make temporary appointment of the Hon. Matthew Stanley Quay to be United States Senator from Pennsylvania until the next meet the second of the Pennsylvania Legislaturfe to silver.

"Yours respectfully." [Signed] "WILLIAM A. STONE, "Governor of Pennsylvania." Gov. Stone said that in appointing Quay he felt he had done the fit and proper thing. The authority quoted says the Governor of any State may make temporary appointments during a recess, to hold until the next Legislature meets.

CALIFORNIA AFFECTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, April 21.—[Exclusiv WASHINGTON, April 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Gov. Stone today appointed M. S. Quay United States Senator to succeed himself, after the failure of the Legislature to elect Quay's successor, he set up a disagreeable problem, and one that interests California. Quay's recent trial on criminal charges has nothing to do with the case, because he has been acquitted of that charge. The only question is whether the Senate will recognize Quay's appointment under the circumstances and give him his seat. If it does so recognize him, and Gov. Gage of California should appoint somebody to the Senate, the Republican majority in the Senate would be simply obliged to seat the Californian.

Some doubt is expressed here as to whether the Senate will seat Quay, but strong opinions are expressed that he will be seated.

strong opinions are expresed that he will be seated. He is remarkably pop-ular despite his alleged corruption, and ular despite his alleged corruption, and he has much power in certain lines of politics here. He is a bad man to attempt to turn down, possibly the worst that could be named, and it would surprise no one should the Senate back down from its time-honored custom and admit Quay.

Then all other States sending Republican Senators here, not elected by Legislatures, but appointed by Governors, would demand and get admittance for those appointees.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 21. — John Wanamaker has made a statement relative to the acquittal of ex-Senator Quay and the latter's appointment by the Governor as United States Senator, in which he says:

"The acquittal of ex-Senator Quay will be a disappointment to every lover will be a disappointment to every lover of justice and every friend of good government throughout the United States. It records with emphasis the difficulty of convicting potent politicians, charged with public crime, no matter how clear, convincing and overwhelming the evidence may be. The story of the corrupt use and speculation in public money in Pennsylvania is an old one, and has been a matter of notorious accusation against a long list of State Treasurers and political bosses for many years.

"Mr. Quay himself has been again and again accused of participation in treasury jobbing by the newspapers of this and other States. Heretofore, however, the basis of these accusations largely consisted of oral testimony and of allegations by political opponents. The case which terminated today, unlike previous accusations, was founded exclusively upone decumentary proof in

The case which terminated today, unlike previous accusations, was founded exclusively upon documentary proof in his own handwriting and that of his friends and confederates. The evidence of the guilt did not depend upon the veracity of any man or men, but was supported exclusively by his own letters and by written entries and statements recorded by his trusted friends and supporters.

and by written entries and statements recorded by his trusted friends and supporters.

"The first shout of defiant exuitation over his acquittal has proceeded from the Governor of the commonwealth, who has propmtly appointed him a United States Senator without authority and in violation of the law and in defiance of the will of the people, as expressed by the votes of the Legislature. It is fitting in every way that the capstone should have thus been put upon the edifice of boss rule and machine jobbery in the Quay representative in the Governor's chair. We will thus see more clearly, it is to be hoped the reckless disregard of right and decency of public morality and political purity that characterizes the Quay machine now intrenched in office in Pennsylvania.

"But friends of good government should not despair. There are other indictments to be disposed of still hanging over Quay, and whatever may be their fate, even though it should be a technical acquittal, the contest against the degrading forces, practices and principles which Quay and his machine represent will be carried on until justice and right, morality and honesty shall triumph. Today's verdict settles nothing but the fate of the single bill of indictment upon which Quay was tried."

The Chief of Police says the three persons under arrest enticed Miss Bru-not to the farmhouse, shot her through the head and buried her body in an abandoned well.

Miss Brunot came to this city visit about April 1. It is said sh brought with her a valise containing a draft for $500 and other valuables. Neither the valise nor Miss Brunot were seen after April 1. A few days later Henry Brunot and Sibley disappeared. The police learned that the two went to Indianapolis where they, it is said, cashed a draft for $500 and spent the proceeds. On the strength of this clew and a letter from Indianapolis friends inquiring for Miss Brunot, the three inhabitants of the Brunot, the three inhabitants of the Brunot farm were arrested at 2 o'clock this morning. At 8 o'clock the police found Miss Brunot's decomposed body, in the old well. Her clothing was found in the garret of the farmhouse. She fell and I fired several more shots into her body. She died instantly. Sibley did not fire. Sibley tore all her clothing from her, searching for money, but found none. We dragged her out on the porch, threw her into a wheelbarrow, and Sibley wheeled her to the well and dumped her in, head first. We then built a platform a few feet below the surface of the ground and filled it with earth. My mother had nothing to do with the murder. Our object was robbery. We thought that 'Aunt Jane' had money on her.' Sibley later made a confession, corroborating that of Brunot. Brunot denied that his mother and himself poisoned their father three years ago to obtain his insurance. Both Sibley and Brunot denied all knowledge of the murder of Widow McIntyre in Flatham district, two months ago. Mrs. Brunot has been released from custody. Sibley and Brunot were remanded without bail.

HISTORY OF THE MURDER.

COWARDLY KILLING OF A WIFE WHO SOUGHT DIVORCE.

Knights Templars to Meet Next in Los Angeles-Wright and Dave Holliday Convicted-The Fresno Feud.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES ! SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.-[Exclu-ve Dispatch.] George C. Owens, the Modesto wife-murderer, who attempted to exterminate his whole family in December, 1897, paid the penalty for his crime this morning at San Quentin prison with his life. Contrary to ex-pectation, Owens bore up strongly un-der the trying ordeal.

The execution had been set for 10:30 o'clock, but it was four minutes later when the condemned man entered the gallows room, walking with a firm steady step between two guards of the death watch, Frank Abograst, the new hangman at the prison, and Charles Merritt. The trio were preceded by Father Logan, who was offering the last prayer for the condemned man. Owens mounted the thirteen steps of the gallows without assistance from the guard, and took his place forward of the trap through which he was to drop a minute later. In a clear and measured voice, with distinct enunciation, he spoke a few words to the spectators who had gathered to witness the last tragic event in the desperate carpen-ter's life.

In admitting his guilt, he said: "!

killed my wife, a woman that I loved. I am going to my God with love in my heart for her. I was not in my right mind when I took my wife's life, as my God and heaven knows.'

Owens acknowledged the murder of his wife without a tremor in his voice, and did not say that he regretted the deed. His speech was made in a mono-tone, and had evidently been committed to memory. He concluded with a-farewell to his hearers.

At the conclusion of his talk, Owens stepped backward upon the trap. Hangman Abograst slipped the black cap over his head, and quickly adjusted the noose, and gave a signal for the three strings to be cut which would drop the murderer into eternity. The drop was five feet four inches, and Owens's neck was broken by the fall.

THE MURDERER'S CRIME.

SAN QUENTIN, April 21 .- George C. Owens was convicted of having mur-dered his wife at Modesto in December, 1897. As a result of much infelicity, Mrs. Owens had sued her husband for divorce and had gone to live with her daughter, a Mrs. Tiedmann. December 13, 1897, Owens went to Mrs. Tiedmann's ouse and begged his wife to return to her home. She refused and he drew a revolver and shot her to death. He shot once at Mrs. Tiedmann, inflicting a slight wound. She ran away, and he then turned the revolver upon himself, but did no serious injury.

He was sentenced to be hanged in May last, but appealed to the Supreme Court and the appeal acted as a stay. A decision affirming the lower court's judgment was recently hanced down. The Governor refused to grant executive sleephers.

They drove off, and at the bridge picked up the other two Chinamen. They left Niles at 4:30 o'clock, and just had time to get to San José when the murder was committed there. Sunday came and went, but the team has not been returned.

and went, but the team has not been returned.

Monday Barnard drove to San José to trace them up. He found a trace of them at Milpitas, and learned that the four men had gone on to San José, where they were swallowed up in the maze of the San José Chinatown. Constable Roderick has also been hunting them to get the rig back, but without success. The supposition is that the four men committed the San José murder, and then went on to Fresno, which town they had ample time to reach in time to assist in the big murders. Officer Roderick left this morning for the south to try and get some clew of them. The team is valued at about $200.

This promises to be an important clew that may lead to the arrest of the highbinders. Barnard had furnished a very accurate description of the men to the officers in San Francisco, and has sent notices all over the country in hopes of having them caught. The Chinese were dressed in American clothes of fine make, and wore skull caps such as Chinese usually wear.

YAQUINA BAY IMPROVEMENT.

Not a drop of water and not a particle of food was in the boat.

A NILES MYSTERY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NILES, April 21.—Last Saturday about 8 o'clock in the evening a Chinaman was killed by highbinders at San José. Wednesday night a bloody riot took place at Fresno, as detailed in the papers, highbinders killing the men in both instances. Last Saturday at 4 o'clock four Chinamen arrived at Niles, and while two of them sought a local stable conducted by J. B. Barnard, the other two walked down the track in the direction of San José.

At the stable a two-horse, two-seated questioned signature in connection with the deed of 1890 and other signatures, and informed Cannon at San Francisco that he believed the signature to the note a forgery. The witness demonstrated to the jury from blackboard drawings and enlarged exhibits of admitted signatures of Murdock, and told how he believed the signature to the note was forged by tracing, drawing and patching.

Elsenschimel said that Murdock wrote fluently, while the note signature was halting and retraced. More microscopic examinations of admitted and questioned signatures were made by the judge and jury. Before the witness had concluded an adjournment was taken.

He had evidently set fire to his bedding, and the flames had spread to the padding on the walls and set the Courthouse on fire.

The door of the cell was broken open and the man, was found dead, and so badly burned that it was impossible to remove him during the fire. Every effort was made to check the flames, but there being no fire engine, they soon enveloped the entire building. By the united efforts of those present, the records and some furniture in the various offices were saved.

The hall of records, a fireproof building near by, was not damaged, neither was the jail, which adjoined the main building. No prisoners were in the jail. The Assessor's vault and safe were found all right, and the Treasurer's safe is in good condition, having been opened this afternoon. It contained many valuable papers and records, besides considerable money, nothing being damaged.

It seems that one J. S. Mayhugh has been making it unpleasant for a young lady who is teaching on the reservation, with the view of having her discharged. A German, who is a friend of Mayhugh, interfered with the young woman's work Wednesday, and she drew her revolver and ordered him off the reservation. The reservation doctor appeared on the scene at this point, and took a shot at the German's ride. Mayhugh ran to the German's rescue, and the doctor shot him in the head, inflicting a slight wound.

The Indian police took part in the fight which followed, and shooting became generals It is learned that several arrests have been made. Mayhugh was agent on the reservation up to 1884, and it is said that he has been reappointed to the place by President McKinley. the report will not completely sustain the allegations made by Maj.-Gen. Miles, nor will it completely dismiss them. By the order convening it, the court was directed to investigate allegations made by Gen. Miles as to the unfitness for issue of certain articles of food furnished to the troops in the field in Cuba and Porto Rico, and to submit with its findings of fact such recommendations as to further proceedings as must seem to be warranted by the facts developed.

The opponents of Gen. Miles made no secret of the fact that it was expected that the court would find the allegations of Gen. Miles entirely without foundation, and would recommend that proceedings be instituted against him. These findings will not be realized, and the probability is that the court will not recommend any further proceedings against either Gen. Miles or anyone else.

Among officers of the army it is believed that the findings will be that the charge made by Gen. Miles that the refrigerated beef was treated with chemicals, has not been proved, though there was some ground for a reasonale suspicion and that some of it had chemicals, has not been proved, though there was some ground for a reasonable suspicion and that some of it had been so treated; that the canned roast beef was good when purchased, but that it spoiled easily in the climate of Cuba and Porto Rico, and that it was not suitable for issue, as the main part of the meat ration to troops engaged in field operations in those islands. It is probable that the court will make recommendations as to the best methods of supplying the army with fresh meat in the future, and it may advise that special investigations into this question be made by the commissary department.

THE PRESIDENT'S INSTRUCTIONS. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 21.—Two exciting sessions of the Mazet Investigating Compilities were held today. A feature n the stand, and still another feature ejection from the committee-room Abraham Himmet Wright of the Rosbling Company, when he insisted upon making a statement after he had refused to answer a great majority of e questions put to him by Moss, coun-

l for the committee. The chief interest centered in Andrew Freedman who, within recent years, has, been known as a warm personal friend of Croker, and associated with him in a business way. Freedman was more han ordinarily forcible in his answers o some of the questions, and many of ne questions he refused to answer at il. At other times he was rebuked by both Moss and Chairman Mazet for both Moss and Chairman Mazet for what they terined "impertinence."

After Freedman's examination had progressed to a certain point, and the witness had refused several times to answer a question which he deemed a "personal matter." Moss excused him for the day. Freedman then got down from the stand, and, turning to the mewspaper reporters, he handed them a paper, saying: "Gentlemen of the press, here is a statement of the entire business of the Platt Company and Allen Company for publication."

This was a paper relating to the business done by the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company, in which ness done by the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company, in which Freedman and Croker are interested, and contained information which Moss had degired to get at during the course of the examination. Moss, therefore, was very indignant at Freedman's action, and he demounced the witness vehemently and recalled him to the stand. The questions which he put with regard to the paper to Freedman were not answered, the witness refusing absolutely to state by whom the paper had been prepared. At this juncture Moss took occasion to say that those witnesses who were in contempt would be dealt with later in a regular and logical way.

Moss took occasion to say that those witnesses who were in contempt would be dealt with later in a regular and logical way.

When Croker was on the stand, a few days ago, he testified that he had received dividends from the surrety company, while today it developed that the company had not paid dividends. Freedman explained on the stand, in reply to a series of questions, that Croker is a stockholder in the company and is interested in the business success of the Metropolitan district; that he (the witness) received a salary of $15,000 a year as manager for this territory, and also received commissions, and that he divided the money with Croker. Freedman, however, refused to name the sum that he thought Croker, and said further that he thought Croker, and said further that he thought Croker might be under the impression that the money paid him was in the way of a dividend.

Nearly the entire examination of the witness centered about his and Croker's connection with the sürety company which has dealings with a large number of city officials.

The witness could not further remember exactly how this connection originated, but he did remember that there was no natural contract between Croker and himself for the payment of money. Croker relying on Freedman's word, as he himself put it.

Abraham Himmet Wright of the Roebling Company refused at the very outset—of his examination to answer questions, and entered, into a discussion at the slightest opportunity. After several long wrangles, the witness in sisted upon making an explanation. He was ordered down from the witness stand by Chairman Mazet, but refused to leave the stand. Moss called for the sergeant-at-arms, and Wright was escorted from the room.

Another session will be held tomorrow, and Freedman may be recalled.

DAY'S DEVELOPMENTS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 21 .- The Mazet Investigation Committee today re-sumed its session in this city. All sorts of rumors regarding the possible devel-opments of the day were in circulation The members of the committee, pre The members of the committee, previous to the session, met in Moss's office and held a short conference. Immediately after Mr. Mazet called the committee to order, a Mr. Henderson, who was among the spectators, rose, and, addressing Mr. Mazet, stated that he was a lawyer, and desired the privilege to cross-examine certain witnesses, He apparently represented Police Capt. Price, and was anxious to show that the statements made against that official by Butler at a previous hearing were untrue. Mr. Mazet said that Henderson's request would be considered later.

Henry McDonald, the nominee of the Chicago platform Democracy for Governor at the last State election, was the first witness.

"Have you any knowledge connected with the affairs of the Flushing Gas

McDonald stated that he had. He state that William B. Burnett, a director of that gas company, was an associate of his, and from him he learned various facts. McDonald said he gas sociate of his, and from him he learned various facts. McDonald said he gas company was reorganized in the beginning of 4898, and—that Henry J. Braker, a member of the Democratic Club and the present owner of the Democratic Club building, and another man purchased the first-mortgage bonds of the company and were made directors. Soon after, this McDonald said the Flushing company endeavored to obtain a contract from New York City, under the administration of Mayor Van Wyck, but were not successful. Continuing, McDonald said: "Finally it was arranged by Mr. Bråker with Mr. Croker that the stockholders of the company should curn over to Andrew Freedman 20 per cent, of the stock of the company to be held for the benefit of Mr. Croker and Mr. Freedman."

Hoffman asked if McDonald was present when that arrangement was made. The witness said, he was simply stating what he had been told. Continuing, McDonald testified: "This stock was contributed by the different

McDonald testined to his acquital on that charge, and O'Sullivan said: "Were you not found with Chairman Hackett of the Republican State Committee in conference, making arrangements concerning the silver wing of the Democratic party?"

No." said McDonald, He emphatically denied any such treachery. Whathe did do was this:

"When we were at Afbany, at the close of the last campaign, having a contest over my petition, which was criminally and maliciously destroyed in the office of ex-Senator Hill, after consultation over the telephone with that worthy gentleman, I went to Mr. Evans and solicited him to contribute money to make our contest in the court. "We are supplying less now than previous to my going into the company." he said.

I Creker, he said, knew nothing whatsoever about his holding stock in the company. Freedman said he was connected with the United States Fidelity Guarantee Company. He said he had nothing to do with politics.

Croker had never assisted him in getting stock in any corporation unless he himself, had paid for it. He had paid for every dollar's worth of stock he owned. Croker had paid for the stock he owned in the Fidelity and Guarantee Company. Freedman refused to answer whether there was a state of war between his company and the other company, on the ground that the question was not pertinent to the investigation.

Chairman Mazet instructed him to answer, but Freedman refused. Freedman testified that his bond company had paid no dividends. Moss drew Freedman's attention to the testimony of Croker, who stated before the committee that he got dividends regularly from the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company, Freedman said he could explain that very easily.

As manager of the company, he had a salary and commission, besides owning stock. He divided his salary and commission with Croker, according to previous agreement. There was no commission with Croker, according to previous agreement. There was no contract for such an arrangement.

Freedman admitted that it was not advertised that Mr. Croker was interested in the company, "But. his friends know it," he explained.

Freedman said that he received slib.000 a year, and that he worked "very hard for it."

"Do you divide your commissions with Mr. Croker?" asked the lawyer.

"I will not say that I divide them," said Freedman, "I will say that Mr. Croker received a proportion."

Freedman said he did not give Mr. Croker any part of his salary. Mr. Mazet directed the witness to state what proportion of commissions he paid to Croker. Freedman refused to answer on the ground that the agreement was a "personal matter." He said the commissions paid to the Tammany leader did not amount to $50,000 a year, but refused to say if they amounted to $50,000 a year. but refused to say if they amounted to $25,000. Freedman said there was no official record of the money paid to Croker. Freedman stated that Croker was not interested in any propositions with him, excepting "a small interest" in the Fidelity and Guarantee Company.

Moss said: "I asked you if you ever told Mr. Croker, or gave him to understand that the moneys paid him out of this bond company are dividends."

"Mr. Croker might say that he understood that, and he really did so understand it," said Freedman. "It really is dividends on the business that was, done. It was not stock dividends; it was a business idvidender."

"Any other stockholders receiving such dividends asked the lawyer.

"Yes, I am" said the witness.

"Now do you mean to say, Mr. Freedman, that you told Mr. Croker that this money you were giving him was given him by the company?"

"I have replied to that, sir, Mr. Croker might have believed that this was a stock dividend."

ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT HAMILTON (N. Y.,) April 21.—Fully one thousand students, alumni and friends of Colgate University, assembled today to hear the Patron's day address by President James B. gate, presided. Rev. Jesse Hungale of Homer, N. Y., offered the invocation. Dr. Angell was greeted with applause by the large audience. His address was upon the subject of "Our Diplomatic and Consular Service." President Angell said, in part:

"I have thought that perhaps I mightender some service by offering a few suggestions on the diplomatic and consular service of the United States. I shall aim to show that the diplomat of our country is worthy of higher appreciation than he generally receives, and that the consular system is in need of some important changes, if it is to render the assistance it ought to give to commerce and to the security of prosperity and life. I choose this theme now, because all are convinced that we are henceforth to have more intimate and extensive, perhaps in some respects mare delicate and dangesous, relations with foreign powers than we have included the past.

"We all see that we cannot live longer in the comparative isolation we have enjoyed. Even if we do not have greater complications in our political relations, though it is probable we shall, still there can be no doubt that we are to play a much larger part than ever before in the commerce of the world, since we are now prepared to supply the markets of the world with many prod-

"I have replied to that, sir. Mr. Croker might have believed that this was a stock dividend."

"But did you give him to understand that it was a stock dividend."

"Do you believe that your leader, your friend, the head of Tammany Hall in this city." asked Moss, "in view of the people of the city, would stoop to the business of dividing your commissions in the bond company, on the bonds of the city employés?. Do you believe that?"

"Mr. Croker has not. Mr. Croker, has, simply had a business arrangement with me, the same as Mr. Platt's. son has with his father." replied Freedman somewhat hotly. He added: "It is an old fight with Mr. Platt and Mr. Platt's, son and this company."

Moss wormed out of Freedman that the profits he divided with Croker were "mostly from bonding."

"Chairman Mazet said: "There is a discrepancy between your testimony, and Mr. Croker's. If you care to have the record stand as it is, the commis-

In conclusion he expressed the hope that some method would be adopted which would open our foreign service to our young graduates on terms which would make it worth the while of some of them to prepare themselves for it and enter upon it. He counted it a good, omen that college students are now so much interested in public affairs. He besought those of them who should go into public life to carry with them the high ethical inspiration which the noble life of the university gives them, and he expressed the hope that the institution which had done so much for the church would not be wanting in contributing some of its best sons to the diplomatic and consular service of the state.

The primary cause of all the trouble

The primary cause of all the trouble is a group of settlers who defy Mr. Menier's authority upon his own property and count upon religious and national prejudice for support in their revolt. They are described as pirates and wreckers of the worst description, and came originally from Newfoundland. They squatted on Anticosti without authority, and live largely upon what they can loot from vessels wrecked upon the coast of the inhospitable island. In some seasons these wrecks are very numerous. Mr. Menier's friends complain, too, that these men kill his game and take his lobsters and other fish without permission, defying his authority in every way. It is for these reasons that the French millionaire has taken proceedings to expel them from the island.

"For the Governor of a State to demand the return of United States solders during the most serious and active service in which they engaged, is not only discreditable to the State and destructive of military distipline, but would be wholly unjust to the boys who begred to be sent to the Philippines, and after arriving there sent thousands of letters home complaining that they were not allowed to see active service in the field.

"As Governor of this State, I am not inclined to demand the return of our volunteers. For to do so would be of doubtful propriety, unless coming first from the boys themselves. A formal 'demand' for the discharge of United States troops by a State would be an exhibition of attempted insubordination and impertinence."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.-Capt. John Dillon of the Unted States transport Morgan City has been found guilty of cruelly beating a sailor on the high seas, and is sentenced to pay a fine of $3500. Dillon almost killed a sailor who had struck his superior while in an intoxicated condition:

NEGOTIATIONS PROGRESSING.

Gen. Otis Expects to Be Able to Announce Result Scon.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]
NEW YORK, April 21.—A special to the Press from Washington says that at the War Department, the hopeful feeling concerning the Philippines is encouraged by a cable from Gen. Otis. encouraged by a cable from Gen. Otis. He reports that the negotiations for peace are progressing satisfactorily. The commanding general says that he does not wish to make definite promises or predictions, but he believes that he will be able to announce a result of communications passing between the commission and the leaders of the insurgents. The State Department has similar information from civil sources, and confidence is expressed that the outcome of the efforts to establish American authority will be a success.

Precisely what the terms are is not known. It can be stated on authority that even the President is not aware what the ferms the commission is offering to Aguinaldo and his associates are. The commission has much discretion. It can give assurances in regard to the amnesty and local government. It is in position to make the conditions of surrender liberal. The President has believed for some time that if his commissioners could get into free communication with the insurgents they would satisfy them He reports that the negotiations for get into free communication with the insurgents they would satisfy them that the interests of the Filipinos lay in the acceptance of American authority.

in the acceptance of American authority.

The advices today indicate that communication has, or is about to be established. Evidently the insurgents have learned something from their recent terrible experience.

It is understood that Agoncillo, hearing of negotiations at home, intends coming to the United States from Paris. He wishes to be in reach of the President or the State Department, that he may not be left out of the deal. He will not be received officially, but he can be offered the privilege of talking with the American authorities if he has any desire for information. He will be told again concerning the power of Congress to provide the form of government for the Filipinos. He also will be made aware of the impossibility of President McKinley granting immediate independence to the archipelago. President McKinley granting immediate independence to the archipelago as was demanded at the beginning.

PURELY A MISSION OF MERCY. Yorktown Went to Balar for the

Rescuing of Spaniards. IA. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.1

NEW YORK, April 21 .- A dispatch to the Herald from Manila says that Admiral Dewey in an interview today said the expedition of the gunboat Yorktown to Balar was purely to rescue the Spanish soldiers and priests who are being besieged in a church there. The soldiers refused to surrender when ordered to lay down their arms by Gen. Rios, at the end of the Paris peace conference. Admiral Dewey said he did not know what had become of Lieut. Gilmore and the fourteen men in the launch. They had been sent out to sound the mouth of the river, but went beyond the bend, out of sight of the Yorktown.

mouth of the river, but went beyond the bend, out of sight of the yorktown.

The supposition is they were captured or killed by the Spaniards or the 400 insurgents who are besieging the Spanish garrison. Admiral Dewey declined to say what steps he would take toward a punitive expedition.

Gen. Rios, the Spanish commander, when interviewed, said he did not think the garrison at Balar knew that the war between the United States and Spain had ended. He had sent an officer in January to tell the garrison to surrender.

The garrison refused to surrender, either not believing the officer or fearing they would be trapped by the insurgents. Since then, Gen. Rios had no communication with the garrison and this is the first information he was besieged and have no way of getting to the river. Gen. Rios said he had not been consulted.

Gen. Rios doubted whether the topoeced exchange of Filiphoss, for Spanish is prisoners would succeed, as the insurgents are holding the Spaniards in the letter containing Gen. Rios's last yeal to Agulnaldo, said the release of the Spanish prisoners would create a bond of sympathy between the Fill-pinos and Spain

AN OFFR OF MEN.
[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

Gomez Would Probably Accept the to Him-Spanish Citizens Going Back to Spain.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT:] HAVANA, April 21.—[By West Indian Cable.] Two new cases of yellow fever developed in Havana today, mak ing five officialy reported. There are no Americans among them.

The Carlists are moving throughout the island and their agents are trying to secure men. They prefer the Cuban soldiers around Havana. Yesterday one agent was offering $15 a month and a ree passage to Spain as an inducement o join the army of Don Carlos.
Officials close to Gomez say that would probably accept.

Gomez was subjected to an affront yesterday while he was returning in a launch after saying farewell to his twosons and daughter, who sailed for Santo Domingo. He was hissed by some people who were standing on the roof of a house that overlooked the harbor.
They waved Spanish flags, cried "Long live Weyler." and "Long live Spain."
"Death to Gomez," "Death to the Americans," and "Death to the Cubans."
The passengers and sailors on board the Alfonso XIII repeated the cries,
Even the papers that oppose Gomez denounce the proceeding as an outrage.
Since January 1, 29,000 Spanish citizens have left for Spain, the Alfonso

WRECK OF PLUTON FOUND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SANTIAGO DE CUBA, April 21.—The wreck of the Spanish torpedo boat-de-stroyer Pluton, which was sunk in the stroyer Pluton, which was sunk in the great battle that resulted in the destruction of Cervera's squadron, was discovered yesterday about three miles from Moro Castle in eight fathoms of water. It was found by divers from the Yankton, who made a thorough inspection, finding the hull lying on the port side, and with no indications of having been struck by a heavy shell, as was originally reported. The vessel, however, is badly stove and literally riddled with six-pounders. Evidently the Gloucester did her work well that day, for the Pluton is utterly ruined, and no attempt will be made to raise her.

PORTO RICAN SCHOOLS.

Fifty Dollars a Month Offered to American Teachers. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 21.—In a report to the Secretary of War, Dr Victor S. Clark, sub-director of public instruction in Porto Rico, says that only $50 a month can be offered to American teachers, with transportation o the island from New York.

to the island from New York.

As understood in this country, there is no system of higher education in Porto Rico. There is no coeducation of the sexes. No schoolhouse exists on the island, the schools usually being held at the residences of the teachers. Only, a part of the public pupils have text books. About twenty-five schools are reported on the island, and a little over $300,000 annually paid for their support. A great desire is manifested to learn English.

GOES BACK TO CUBA.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 21.-A special to the Herald from Washington says that the Tenth United States Cavalry, the colored regiment which did such brilliant service in the Santiago campaign, is to have another tour of duty in Cuba. The regiment is now in Texas. It has been ordered to leave as soon as possible for Santiago. A part of the regiment will be stationed at Manzanillo, and the remaining troops at Santiago. It will operate against the bandits that have been giving so much trouble in Santiago. the Herald from Washington says that

Whoop-up for Bryan Last Night at Buffalo-Trusts and Expansion Denounced by the Orators of the [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] BUFFALO (N. Y..) April 21 .- Fully three thousand people crowded Music Hall tonight to listen to Col. W. J. Bryan. Among those in the boxes were Mayor Conrad Diehl and Vicar-General Connery of the diocese of Buffalo.

Col. Bryan appeared on the stage at 8:25 o'clock, accompanied by a large crowd. He was enthusiastically received, the audience rising and cheering for some time. Among those on the platform were Frank L. Bapst, chair-man of the Democratic Committee; Norman E. Mack, Supreme Court Justice Robert G. Titus and Oliver H. P. Belmont.

"I deem it, therefore, Greent that every Democrat of New York should rally to his party and give assurance of his support to the next national platform, whether it will be that of '96 pure and simple, or whether it will be that of '96 modified or added to.

"The Republicans, as expressed by this administration, stand for trusts, monopolies and concentrated wealth and imperialism, and to all of these things I hold Democracy is opposed.

"I am not opposed to wealth—no one would believe me if I pretended to be—but I am opposed to trusts and monopolies, because I consider they interfere with individual effort which has made the American citizen what he is, a free and independent man. I deny in every way the idea that the Democratic party is opposed to wealth, as our Republican friends pretend. Wealth is as safe in Democratic hands as it is in Republican friends pretend. Wealth is as safe in Democratic administration."

Judge Titus paid a high tribute to Col. Bryan, who was received with tremendous cheering. Bryan said that he had been accused of not having worldly goods sufficient to make him a safe custodian of property, but that he was glad that the one who preceded him (Mr. Belmont.) had enough worldly possessions to take him out of the rank

Presidents McKinley and Diaz Will Issue Proclamations.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, April 21.—The President will in a few days issue a proclamation giving effect to the new extradition treaty between the United States and Mexico, President Diaz taking similar action in Mexico. The Mexican Embassy has been advised that the treaty between the United States and Mexico was ratified by the Mexican Senate on April 12 last, and already has been ratified by the United States Senate, so that it becomes effective as soon as promulgated by the Presidents of the two countries.

The text of the new treaty has never been made known, but besides providing extradition for all crimes not political, its principal feature is in giving the treaty retroactive effect, so as to cover crimes committed while no treaty existed.

HAVE you asked your friends to join you in the study of the Times Home Study Circle's courses. Perhaps they also will be glad to take advantage of an opportunity to get a university education at home.

S. S. S. GOES

TO THE BOTTOM.

Promptly Reaches the Seat

In every test made S. S. S. easily demonstrates its superiority over other blood remedies. It matters not how obstinate the case, nor what other treatment or remedies have failed, S. S. S. always promptly reaches and cures any disease where the blood is in any way involved. Everyone who has had experience with blood diseases knows that there are no ailments or troubles so obstinate and difficult to cure. Very few remedies claim to cure such real, deep-seated blood diseases as S. S. cures, and rone can offer such incontrovertible evidence of merit. S. S. S. is not merely a tonic—it is a cure! It goes down to the very seat of all blood diseases, and gets at the foundation of the very worst case, and routs the poison from the system. It does not, like other remedies, dry up the poison and hide it from view temporarily, only to break forth again more violently than ever; S. S. S. forces out every trace of taint, and rids the system of it forever.

Mrs. T. W. Lee, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash which they gave me seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. I im-will assemble at the Chamber of Commerce Friday, April 28, at 10 o'clcck in the forenoon.

The work will be commenced today on the placing of three public fountains by the Chamber of Commerce. The first one to be erected will be in front of the chamber on Broadway. The others will be in front of No. 126 South Spring street and in front of No. 125 South Main street, respectively. These are the fountains which were purchased by the chamber a year ago.

The committee appointed by the chamber to look into the advisability of applying to the United States government for a supply of trout in the mountain streams of Southern California will hold a meeting at the chamber at 10 o'clcck this forenoon. Dr. Law of Leadville, Colo., who secured the location of the United States fish hatchery at Leadville, will consult with the committee.

A magnificent exhibit of growing strawberries has been placed in the chamber. A single plant bearing more than 135 berries is now growing in a pail near the center of the exhibit hall. The plant is the property of D. C. Edmiston of No. 1028 West Thirty-eight street, and is only a year old. It is a seedling, and Mr. Edmiston has two others which promise to bear as heavily as this one. Some unusually well developed almonds, grown by O. L. Levesey on the Manzana Colony ranch, are being prepared for the liquid exhibit of the chamber.

Distinguished Testimony

No secret society in the world stands higher in noble aims and charitable accomplishments than the Knights of Pythias. That order is doing great good, and one of its finest institutions is the Ohio Pythian

Home, at Springfield, Ohio, which is ably presided over by Superintendent Le Fevre and his wife, Mrs. Callie I. Le Fevre, the matron. The latter has recently written a letter, which will command widespread attention because of the prominence of the writer. It is as follows:—
"Mesørs. W. H. Hooker & Co., New York: Last year I used Acker's English Remedy to the suggestion of entirely at the suggestion of a friend for a serious, long-standing throat difficulty and extreme-ly hard cough. Had used many well-spoken of prepara-tions without relief. I can tions without relief. There was a strong fight made for the Marshal's place, hot settled until the third ballot, when Rough Rider Hawley permitted his votes to go to Molloy. Presiding over the convention was Dr. William Duffield who had been considered a candidate for Mayor.

This morning's Daily Republican prints the Republican ticket without its head. It will not support Monihon. It deems him in every way unfitted for the place, its leading editorial recites. In its-course the Republican is sustaining the views of the wing of the local Republican part,y generally known as the Adams faction, supposedly led by J. C. Adams, postmaster of Phoenix and late Mayor. Monihon expresses himself as unconcerned by the opposition within his own party's phalanx and declares he is assured of even more than enough Democratic votes to balance the defection.

There was a notable surprise of the evening when E. H. Lamme arose in the audience and stated that, on behalf of the citizens of Los Angeles, Bishop Montgomery would make a presentation to Stanton Post. The bishop was called to the platform, and paid a beautiful tribute to the late Maj. Gen. Rosecrans, whom he had known for about fifteen years, and whom he said he had found to be possessed of a grand character. He said that many people thought that Gen. Rosecrans had a hobby in his constant anxiety to secure purity of the ballot in this country, but that in reality he had simply seen many years ago what is now coming forcibly to the attention of many people, that the purity of the ballot is the cornerstone of the republic. The speaker said that Rosecrans was of a somewhat rugged nature, such as is always the case with brave men, and like all brave men, he was of a most generous disposition. While he was a strict disciplinarian, he had always a warm place in his heart for any man who did his duty.

An easel stood by the platform, covered with the American flag, and as the bishop finished his brief encomium the flag was thrown aside and the face and bust of the famous general were revealed in life sign. The portrait is in oil, the general being presented in the uniform of a major-general. The unveiling of the picture, which is a work of fine art, was the signal for spontaneous applause.

Capt. Hyatt accepted the present in a brief address.

Col. Masteller spoke briefly and humorously of the incidents of army life.

The principal address of the evening was given by Maj. J. H. Simpson. He said in part:

"We of the G.A.R. always love to meet and greet friends in this fraternal way, meeting as Christians, as patriots and as citizens. We are, as a nation, now making history such as has never been equalled by any people of ancient or modern times, and it behooves me in greeting you in this beautiful valley in these times of active, patriotic achievement to refer to one of your own citizens, a veteran of two wars, a comrade of ours in the civil war, who served in the same illustrious regiment which has given us two Presidents, Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley. Although this comrade had passed the meridian of his sixtieth year, he offered his services to his country on the outbreak of the war with Spain, and was sent to Manila, where he commanded a brigade through the fighting with the insurgents, and added new laurels to those achieved during the civil war. I received a letter from him a few days ago, which was written while on the fring line, and I feel it my duty to say to you, his neighbors, that when President McKinley gave to his old comrade in arms of thirty odd years ago the only appointment of Brigadler-General which could be accorded to the firing line, and I feel it my duty to say to you, his neighbors, that when President McKinley gave to his old comrade in arms of thirty odd years ago the only appointment of Brigadier-General which could be accorded to the great State of California, he made no mistake. The President knew, as you, his neighbors, know, that he is a man who has never swerved from what he believed to be his duty. Like you, he has always favored law and order, and has ever believed in protecting alike the lives of the laborer and the property-owner. The way in which he has performed every duty, whether in the civil war, the duties of citizenship, or the trials of the late war with the Philippine insurgents, has shown that Harrison Gray Otis has been worthy of the confidence reposed in him by President McKinley, and I hope he may long live to enjoy the companionship of the people of this city, which I know he loves so well."

The speaker then traced the history of the expansion idea in this country and showed that from the very beginning of the Nation's existence there have been two contending forces, one seeking to plant the standard upon greater territory, and another, always a very strong minority, seeking to prevent expansion, and such illustrious men as Webster and Clay were pointed to as obstructionists in growth at times. Then he asked the pertinent question whether there is any portion of the possessions of the country which the people would be willing to relinquish, and the ready answer came from a number of parts of the hail, "No." The speaker then pointed to the great possibilities of the new possessions of the country which the people would be willing to relinquish, and the ready answer came from a number of parts of the hail, "No." The speaker then pointed to the great possibilities of the new possessions of the country which the people would be willing to relinquish, and the ready answer came from a number of parts of the hail, "No." The speaker then pointed to the great possibilities of the new possessions of the c

THE ANTI-CARTOON ACT.

A correspondent, whose communica tion is printed elsewhere in today's issue of THE TIMES, makes a plausible of the anti-cartoon law enacted at the recent session of the Legislature. His defense of that measure is evidently inspired by the sincerest of motives, and he undoubtedly makes as strong a plea in behalf of the law as can be made. Such being the case, his communication is entitled to respectful consideration.

The burden of the correspondent's argument is that the cartoonist often exceeds the bounds of legitimate criticism in holding public men up to ridicule; that because of this abuse the law, though perhaps a little too radical, is "a step in the right direction;" and that, with some modifications, it would be a righteous meas-

The argument is not without force. It is quite true that the liberty of the press, in the United States, is sometimes abused by unscrupulous men, not only in the publication of cartoons, but by the publication of false and unwarranted statements. It would be manifestly unjust, however, because of these abuses of the freedom of the press, to enact laws restricting the freedom of newspapers which are not guilty of abusing their legitimate privileges. It is neither wise, expedient, nor just, to punish the innocent in order that the guilty may also receive punishment. A just law would make careful discrimination in this respect, and would seek to punish the guilty while protecting those who are without offense.

It not infrequently happens that by the publication of a person's name, as a necessary part of a piece of news, for example, an injustice is done to such person. Unscrupulous any newspaper, of the names of in- States, he should become, in spir dividuals properly mete out justice by the infliction of manifest injustice.

It is beyond denial that great injustice is sometimes done by means of the cartoon. Oftentimes, indeed, a man is as clearly libeled by a pictorial representation as by written words. It may be that our laws re-lating to libel are not sufficiently stringent. They may need amending so as to include more minutely the unjust libeling of an individual by means of pictorial representations. This is a matter which properly comes within the purview of the Legislature. There would be no complaint from reputable newspapers if a law were enacted extending the definition of libelous matter so as to include, specifically, the publication of cartoons so brutal and unjust as to be plainly outside the pale of legitimate criticism. It would be extremely difficult to draw the line in such cases, but a law could probably be enacted which would serve to do away, in some degree, with the undoubted evil of libelous cartoons. At all events, there is not much doubt of the unconstitutionality of the anti-cartoon act of the California Legislature. The author of the measure obviously overstepped the constitutional limit in his desire to "get even with the newspapers."

MAKING A MISTAKE.

Those German-Americans who, according to a recent dispatch from Chicago, have formed or are forming an organization with the avowed purpose of "opposing an alliance of the United States with any other power,' are making a serious mistake. The seriousness of their mistake lies not so much in the fact of their organization as in the fact that they are organizing as "German-Americans." As American citizens they enjoy the privilege of organizing for any legitimate purpose-and the ostensible purpose of the organization in question is certainly legitimate. But there should be no such factors in American citizenship as "German - Americans," "Irish-Americans," or any other Americans of the hyphenated variety. Every person who claims the honor and enjoys the benefits of American citizenship, should be content to be simply a plain American, without merely made a quite common error when he used the word "avocations" justify himself in such use of His warping of the dictionaries to sustain himself is far less justifiable than his first error.

The Webster's dictionary in use in the Times office-and it bears as its frontispiece a picture of the immortal Noah, and on its title page the imprint of G. and C. Merriamsays, under the word "avocation," "the use of this word for vocation is very improper." The Standard Dictionary says: "Avocation—(1.) That which takes one from his regular calling; a minor or irregular occupation," etc. "(2.) One's regular employment; business; vocation. Improper but common usage." The Century Dictionary says, after giving other definitions: "A person's regular business or occupation; vocation; calling. [An improper though common use of the word.]" Under this definition, as illustrating this error, it quotes the passage from Macaulay cited by the Herald: "In a few hours above 30,000 men left his standard and returned to their ordinary avocations."

The quotation which the Herald credits to the Standard Dictionary "The plural, avocations, very anoma lously, inverts, in most cases, the accepted signification of the singular," is quoted from Hall's "Modern English," and is not indorsed by the dictionary.

To say that the plural as used by the Herald "inverts the signification" is absurd. The meaning was the vocation of each member of the staff. It would have been better to accommit the greater one of deliberately teaching erroneous diction.

It is gratifying to hear Capt. F. A. Kendall, president of the Board of Education of Cleveland, O., say that "California schools are the best in the country," but his statement should not be accepted as settling the question. California's schools are excellent, but the curse of overteaching, of attempting too much in the way of educating the young, is upon this State as the other States of the Union. What is needed in our schools is a simplification of methods, a reduction in the number of books lugged to school by pupils and more commonsense learning, instead of rote-learning. No boy or girl should be compelled to study at home in order to keep up with his or her classes, and the number of studies should be reduced to a minimum instead of being expanded to a maximum, in order to achieve the best results. Education, as we have it in our public schools, is an attempt to cover a too large area, the result being that nothing is learned thoroughly. A return to first principles in the common schools of the country is one of the urgent needs of the times.

The signed-article law is the most conspicuous example of class legislation ever known in the history of this State. In exempting press associations from the provisions of the measure, the entire shooting match is invalidated, for there is no divinity which doth hedge about a reporter of the Associated Press or any other news-gathering association, which puts him in an exalted class, and leaves him free to make remarks about Morehouse and his associate would-be tyrants without the penalty which attaches to other reporters. Or, if so, why so?

The 4000 volunteers who wish to be nustered out of the service at Manila, where they promise to organize as an N.G.P. (National Guard of the Philippines,) should certainly be granted their desire, as they would constitute a force which would keep three times their number of Filipinos on their good behavior. The boys at Manila have earned almost anything they ask for, and this request to be relieved from the service abroad instead of being returned home for muster out is so reasonable that the government will oubtlesss comply without debate.

The Morning R. H. H. Chanman another of our many esteemed contemporaries, comes valiantly to the defense of the signed-article law (with law set in caps,) and accuses this great religious daily of defending anarchy (with anarchy set in quotation marks.) If resisting and spitting upon law abridging the individual freedom of action of a citizen of California be anarchistic, then we are "it," and proud of it. And if the Morning R. H. H. Chapman enjoys being Morehoused, we leave it to revel in the bliss of the performance.

The Morning Spalding says that "O. H. P. Belmont's full name is Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont, and he is frequently called Perry Belmont for When a city "editor sets out to play snapping-turtle he should be sure of his log." O. H. P. Belmont and Perry Belmont are two entirely different individuals and for a Demoerat not to know this is, to say the least, an astonisher from Astonish-Our esteemed contemporary should lay in a Democratic biographical dictionary and read the blamed thing up.

some Los Angeles people are inquiring whether citizens of Los Angeles have and rights which the Southern Pacific Company of Kentucky is bound to respect. A fitting

> A letter has been received from Washington, stating that the Secretary of War will be unable to attend the Harbor Jubilee. This is a pity. A celebration of the beginning of work on San Pedro's outer harbor, without the presence of Mr. Alger, is too much like the play of "Hamlet" with the part of the melancholy Dane omitted.

Our contemporary, the Evening C. D. Willard, ventures the brave statement that, "Mr. Bryan's effort to broaden his political horizon is to be not only ought to broaden the blessed thing, but he would be wise to put a strong prop under it for fear it will sag down, catch the young man under the chin like a crothes-line that lays in wait, and yank the head off'n him.

The Morning J. H. Webb, our esteemed contemporary, aptly says, in speaking of the signed-article "law," that, "We evidently need an addition to the number of State officers in California. An able-bodied and well-paid fool-killer would fill a much-felt want." We fear that a single foof-killer couldn't get around fast enough among the members of the late Legislature; we ought to have an army of them.

The Evening C. D. Willard say: "THE TIMES continues to apologize—a bolmn and a half at a time—for its support of U. S. Grant, Jr., for the United States Senate;" and the Evening C. D. Willard continues to make knowledge the minor fault than to fabrications about what THE TIMES does in paragraphs, five lines long.

Senator Jones, the great optimist of the Democratic National Committee, denies that he is going to resign. So glad; we should miss Jonesy in the delightful muss and mix-up that is promised the country in the year 1900.

One of Utah's State Senators has ecome a mother, but the old women of the California Senate who assisted in the passage of the signed-article 'law" and other iniquitous measures are, thank heaven, still barren.

The signed-article newspapers are fracturing the law every day in re-printing articles from other papers which are minus the names of the writers thereof. These "law-breakers" should look a leedle out!

Another of our esteemed contemporaries, the Morning J. H. Webb, rises in revolt against "a shackled press," but continues to wear the leg-irons with more or less chic and abandon.

THE BURBANK. A well-staged production of Gilbert and Sullivan's production of Gilbert and Sullivan's sparkling opera, "The Mikado," was put on last night at the Burbank by the Wakefield English Opera Company. Considering the fact that this particular opera is hard to cast satisfactorily in this company, it was a very creditable performance, and the elaborate Burbank production of the opera is too well remembered here to leave any doubt as to the brilliancy of the setting.

The famous part of Ko-ko, the Lord High Executioneer, was sung by Mr. West, who showed his invariably crisp and polished work as a comedian, and won many encores with the songs. He sprung a new idea in the encores of the "Flowers That Bloom in the Sprin" song by repeating the stanzas in French, Irish and "coon" dialect, in addition to the usual tricks of whistling and silent repetition. Mr. Taylor played Pooh-Bah with magnificent pomposity and an ironclad sneer suggestive of deep contempt for the humbler beings who could trace their descent no farther than the missing link. Ed. As Yum-Yum, the dainty little Japanese cherry blossom, Miss Crox was not quite so happily cast as she was last week. Her work, however, was so clever and vivacious, and her singing of the well-known solos so pretty, that it atoned for her being unable to look much like the diminutive mousme, Miss Leakley was particularly charming as Pitti-Sing. The kimono suits her to perfection, and her conception of the part is good. Miss Leata Burgess sang the small part of Peep-Bo. The role of Katisha is assumed by Miss Huff, and, barring a deplorable tendency to introduce puns and local "gags," it is the best thing she has done.

"The Mikado" will be put on this afternoon and evening, and will be replaced tomorrow night by "Erminee."

The Mission Indians.

The Mission Indians.
WILLIAM PABLO, Banning: In the issue of your paper of April 16, attention was called to an article on the Mission Indians. Among other things I noticed the following statements: I noticed the following statements:
"So long as the government gives us everything, many of our people do not try to help themselves. The rising generations will be many paces in advance of their parents." "As wards of the government they have been carried as babes in arms."

In answer to these statements allow generations will be many paces in advance of their parents." "As wards of the government they have been carried as babes in arms."

In answer to these statements allow me to say that the government has never furnished any rations to the Mission Indians; they have always been self-supporting, but owing to the drought of the last four years, and also to the face that the choicest lands have been taken away from them, they have repeatedly hasked for help and rations for the sick, old, disabled men and women. This help has been refused repeatedly, especially lately, owing, no doubt, to reports sent to Washington similar to the insinuations made in your article.

There are many poor, sick, old Indians, and the government ought to help them. Indians able to work have helped themselves, and will help themselves. The rising generation will not be many paces in advance of their parents. The boys and girls, who are and have been in the schools will know how to read, write and work in numbers; they may have a better education, but up to date not one of them has settled down on a reservation for practical work. Our old men learned how to plant and cultivate trees and orchards; they know lots of practical work. And, given a fair chance, tried to support themselves. We first wish to see and to experience what the rising generation will do at home; then we may count the paces they will be ahead of the old members of our tribes. The government has done much for the Indians, but it has done very little for the Mission Indians; and whilst we do not want ée find fault in any way with our agent and his associates, and must say that it would be more just to say that the teachers, land agents, surveyors and officials in the Indian service are the ones who have had and have a good chance, and are carried as bables in arms. Alone, the money paid for land agents would be sufficient to buy the finest farm and dwelling for each Indian, man, woman and child. We hope and pray that the government will never carry us as babes in arms, but al of notoriety-seeking people will stop, and that our Indian agent, Hon. L. A. Wright, will not be influenced by outsiders. The Mission Indians will always be loyal and law-abiding Indians, and any favor done to us in assisting us will be gratefully accepted and highly appreciated.

The Anti-Cartoon Law.

W. W. RINER, Los Angeles: To be perfectly candid, do you not think that after all the Legislature, however faulty, took a step in the right direction when it passed the "anti-cartoon" law? No doubt the step was an extreme one, but if moderated would it not be all right? Why should not public men be shielded from the unscrupulous cartoonists? A cartoon portrays a man as a robber, a fool, a hog, a donkey, etc., ad libitum, because that man has contrary political or religious views, and it seems to me as radically wrong. It begets contempt for the brightest and best men of the day, for when one is dragged in the mud some of the silme and it seems to me as radically wrong. It begets contempt for the brightest and best men of the day, for when one is dragged in the mud some of the slime clings to him. For example, the President, a man whom the American people chose as their leader, is posed before the public in all kinds of ridiculous ways, lowering him in the minds of the young as well as old; their reverence for a conscientious and noble man who is broad and capable is impaired, they receiving the impression that Mr. McKinley is insincere, or incompetent or a rascal. It is notably an age of irreverence, and is the cartoonist not very much responsible for it? The Youth's Companion, in commenting on the California law, says in part:

"The cartoon malignantly used is as vicious a weapon as the bludgeon of the assassin. The victim has no adequate way by which he can defend himself. If he attempts to find a way further assault follows. The caricature also offers the deadliest form of libel, and the subject of it may have no redress. The people can very well-accept the loss of entertainment and the good that sometimes comes of the cartoon, in view of the fact that its use is abused, and is so often a source of evil."

The cartoon may be more potent than columns of printed vituperation, since at a glance the reader has presented to him the lowest conception of the victim as skillfully depicted by the cartoonist.

The libel laws were not sufficient protection as evidenced by the great liberty taken by some of the cartoonists of this

The libel laws were not sumeent protection as evidenced by the great liberty taken by some of the cartoonists of this State. It seems to me a liberty so constantly abused as has been cartooning should be hedged with some safeguard to men of hong and plety.

This is not a criticism of The Times, but of the assumption of the press that the law is wholly and unqualifiedly wrong.

MUCH-WANTED JONES.

Says He is not a Candidate for Gov. ernor of Ohio. [A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 2.—Mayor S. M. Jones of Toledo, O., who is in New York, was interviewed by a Herald reporter on the report from Ohio that he might be nominated for Governor on the Republican ticket.

might be nominated for Governor on the Republican ticket.
"I am not a candidate," said Mr. Jones, "though there has been much talk in Ohio about nominating me. I have a loud call to be Mayor of Toledo. Nearly 17,000 of the 24,000 citizens who voted there at the last election cast their votes for the independent ticket on which I ran, though both the political machines, all the newspapers and corporations in the city, and a few of the eminently respectable people were against me.

BURNED THE VILLAGES.

CAPT. STURDEE TEACHING SAMOAN NATIVES A LESSON.

Commander of the British Warship also Carries Off Their Boats. Michael Davitt Says Religion is Bottom of England's Doings.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, April 21.-[By Atlantic Ca ble.] According to a letter received here today from a British naval officer cruiser Porpoise, Capt. Sturdee, in or-der to cripple the rebels, cruised around the coast of Upolu, burning villages and carrying to Apia all the boats of the natives.

As their boats are regarded by the Samoan Islanders as their most valuable possessions, it was believed that this plan would really inflict greater hardships upon them than the destruc-tion of their villages.

RELIGION AT THE BOTTOM. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, April 21.-Herr Wilhelm Leibknecht, the Socialist leader, has received a letter from Michael Davitt, Leibknecht, the Socialist leader, has received a letter from Michael Davitt, Nationalist member of the British Parliament for South Mayo, in which the writer says he is able to confirm from his knowledge that charges recently brought in London Truth against the London Missionary Society by Lloyd Osborne, stepson of the late Robert Louis Stevenson, who characterized the society's antagonism to Mataafa, a Roman Catholic, as the "whole cause of the quarrel" in Samoa.

Davitt describes Chief Justice Chambers as "nominally an American, but in reality an Englishman," who is anxious to promote an Anglo-American alliance. He expresses hatred of England, and warns the Germans "against making the American nation answerable for the blameworthy attitude of one or two persons."

"All the trouble," says Davitt, "is due to English intrigues. You may rely upon the United States settling matters honorably and fairly, as soon as they know the real origin of the riots."

GEFION ORDERED THERE. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] LONDON, April 21.-A dispatch from Shanghai to a news agency says the German protected cruiser Gefion has been ordered to proceed to Apia, Samoa, after embarking an extra supply of ammunition at Kiao Chou, China, and that another cruiser is to follow her.

ALL PROPER.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, April 21.-The report oming from Shanghai, via London coming from Shanghal, via London, that another German war vessel has been ordered to Samoa was received with interest by the officials here, though no particular importance was attached by them to the report, the opinion being expressed that the German government was simply making an addition to its naval representation in Samoa, so as to equal that of Great Britain, a step she has a right to take because of her large commercial interests there.

Britain, a step she has a right to take because of her large commercial interests there.

From the German point of view the dispatch of another war vessel to Samoa would be entirely consistent with the maintenance of Germany's prestige in the island group, where her material interests are greater than those of other nations represented there. These, it is claimed, have been endangered by recent happenings to the prejudice of the country. Such an act, a German diplomat said tonight, could not be construed as unfriendly to the interests of this government, nor as a menace to existing conditions. Germany at this time has only one war vessel at Apla, while Great Britain has two and the United States one. The suggestion was made in German official quarters some days ago that additional vessels might be sent to Apla.

The report that an extra supply of ammunition would be embarked at Kiao-Chou is suggested by this diplomat as probably a malicious invention. Secretary Long said tonight that the Navy Department had no information of the kind contained in the dispatch, but even if it were true, he said, he did not attach any importance to it.

GEORGE TRIAL CLOSING.

DEFENSE HAS NOT MANY MORE WITNESSES ON HAND.

adjourned last night, it was thought that the trial of Mrs. Annie E. George for the murder of George D. Saxtot to permit negotiations for a reciprocity treaty. that the trial of Mrs. Annie E. George for the murder of George D. Saxton would soon be concluded, as the defense is not likely to examine many more of the witnesses that have been subpoenaed. The cross-examination of Miss Lizzie Miller about seeing a man coming from the Althouse residence after the shooting of Saxton did not veaken the new element that her testimony has brought into the defense

The testimony of Newton George, aged 17 years, made a touching close to the session last evening. He told about witnessing the relations be-tween his mother and Saxton, how he was given presents and sent to bed, about his mother sitting in Saxton's lap, and often receiving flowers and presents.

Joseph Eckroat, husband of the woman who testified that she had seen Mrs. George in the act of firing two shots into Saxton's body, was called to the stand today. He testified that his wife had been using a white powder presumed to be morphine, for the past twelve years. He said it made her drowsy and irritable.

E. J. Schisbach, druggist, testified to having sold an eight-ounce bottle of morphine to Mrs. Eckroat at intervals of a week or two. Harry Taylor testified to Mrs. George and Saxton going to Allegheny in March, 1896.

Fred P. Shanfelt and Alex Gardener, druggists, testified to selling morphine to Mrs. George going with Saxton to the farm a number of times.

Miss Alice Mandbaugh testified to having seen Mrs. Althouse enter the Saxton block in 1896.

Miss Florence B. Klinger testified to passing Saxton on his way west at 5:55 o'clock on the evening of his death. At 6:25 o'clock she said Mrs. George came to her home on Marlon street and remained until 8:10 o'clock, when she left. These hours constitute an alibi, it being practically a physical impossibility to have been at the Atlhouse residence at the hour of the shooting and at the Klinger home at 6:25 o'clock.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Again last evening the Jennison-Rogers trio gave evidence of their thorough musicianship in the fifth of the series of chamber music concerts. Their frequent and conscientious rehearsals have told strongly in their favor, and their ensemble work naturally grows constantly more finished. The beautiful adagio from the Schubert "Nocturne" was treated with delightful feeling last night, and the great Tschaikowsky trio was handled throughout with masterly skill. The number itself is full of compelling interest from beginning to end, with its wonderful volume in tone, its vivid coloring, its wealth of musical ideas which are so ingeniously, so elaborately expressed and developed. The intricate weaving of the parts, too, in which the instruments answer, sustain and cooperate with one another makes a whole that is magnificent in effect. The tremendous exactions were met with convincing art by Miss Rogers and Messrs. Jennison, and the audience, which was critical, accorded most cordial appreciation of the very fine work by all three artists. Massenet's song cyclus, "Paeme de Souvenir." another very exacting composition and one delightfully interesting, was presented by Miffe. Isidors Martinez, with Miss Rogers at the plano, with a very finished art. Mme. Martinez, with Miss Rogers at the plano, with a very finished art. Mme. Martinez's interpretation of the cyclus was so lucid as to be entirely understandable on first acquaintance, and its oresentation was so artistic as to make it wholly enjoyable. The programme for the next and last concert of the series will—be made up from requests sent to S. W. Jennison's studio, Wyndham Black, before Apri; 25. The concert will be given May 5. and the programme as decided upos will be printed the Sunday previous.

THROUGH ENGLISH EYES.

The Anti-Expansion View Fairly Stated.

[London Spectator:] With regard to American persistence, the evidence is a little contradictory, but we believe the following to be very nearly the truth. There is no doubt that a powerful party, which draws its voters from both the great old parties, and is led by some of the best men in the States, is entirely opposed to the permanent retention of the Philippines. The members use all manner of arguments, one being that the Filipinos have a right to their own country, another that war stops progress, and a third that their nine millions of negroes are quite enough "burden" for the "white man" to carry; but their real feeling is, we stops progress, and a third that their nine millions of negroes are quite enough "burden" for the "white man" to carry; but their real feeling is, we believe, to be stated in other terms. They hate departing from their ideal, which is an industrial republic, without debts, armies or powerful individualities, devoted to the welfare of the masses, and, while ready to defend itself, still managed in the abstract upon Quaker principles. They wish to see the people devote themselves to the reform of abuses, and they believe that while interested in foreign conqust and settlement, they will neglect everything that demands time, energy and money for its improvement. They take, in fact, a pessimistic view of their own institutions and their own people. And then they hate going outside the Americas. They consider that Providence has given them the two Americas as their inheritance and their field of duty, and that they have no more connection with the islands in the far Pacific than with islands in Mars. They would give the Philippines to the Filipinos, and if the Filipinos gave themselves over to anarchy or were conquered by an European state, they would not care one jot. They do not fear expansion as much as expansion beyond their line of sight, and would welcome an exchange, if that were possible, of the Philippines for the British West Indialslands with something like delight. They are not greatly hurt in their consciences about Porto Rico, because that is American; but they are greatly hurt about Luzon, because it belongs to the eastern hemisphere, and they know nothing about it. This feeling is genuine, strong and actively propagandist, but it will not, we believe, cause the government to retreat? The Americans are Anglo-Saxon, and do not like going back. They are soldiers by instinct, and hate to acknowledge the necessity of retreating before an enemy in arms.

FOR FISH AND GAME.

EST PRESERVATION.

George W. White Speaks on "Na-tional AdmilMstration of Forest Affairs" — California Now Has More Than One-fifth of the Entire Forest Reserve.

The School of Forestry at the University of Southern California was addressed yesterday by T. S. Van Dyke on the subject of "Forestry and its Relation to the Fish and Game Interests." All kinds of game, especially wild fowl, are disappearing so rapidly from the hills and valleys of Southern California that this feature of the present agitation for the preservation of the forests will be of interest to all those who are interested in good sport. The speaker said in part: "The forest covering should be preserved, not only because it affords pro-tection to game and supplies water to the trout streams, but also for the aesthetic beauty that forest-covered mountains possess. Every one should be interested in creating a public sentiment that will preserve these beautiful forests and put a stop to the foolish, wicked ways in which they have heretofore been destroyed. The effect of the forest covering on the water supply in the rivers is all important. The depredations of sheep and fire in our mountains have made terrible changes during my day, and if something is not done to stop this criminal waste it is only a question of time until the mountains become a desert waste. All the section that has been devastated, except those streams that have been stamped out with sand, can be reclaimed and restored to their original beauty, within a few years, by proper care. All that is necessary is to create a strong public sentiment in favor of active measures.

"There is no excuse whatever for the careless camper, and there is no reason why a camp fire should not be effectually extinguished, as camps are always made where there is water. The law must compel people to exercise proper care and make them responsible for every fire that gets beyond control.

"No one can enforce the present law, which provides as a requisite to a conviction that criminal negligence be proven. That is impossible in most cases. The sheep herders, who burn the surface in order to insure a grass crop for the following year, invariably aver that the fire was caused by their camp blaze accidentally getting beyond control, and the reverse is seldom proven. The law should be changed so that any one who makes or leaves any fire that gets beyond control and does damage is responsible for it and punishable by a fine."

"National Administration of forest raffairs will in all probability be under the direct control of the government, and it is well to understand the principles that have been so far adopted. The forestry service has been but recently organized. The first authorization of forest reserves by Congress was in 1891, and up till 1897 the President had set aside 17, California more than one-fifth of the entire reserve.

"The plan submitted by the committee of the Academy of Sciences recommended that one director and four inspectors be appointed. The territory was divided among the inspectors as follows: First, California and Nevada; Second, Oregon and Washington; third, Arlzona, New Mexico, Celorado and Utah; fourth, Wyoming, South Dakota, Montana and Idaho, The plan included twenty-six head foresters, each to have charge of a district of from a million to a million and a half of acres. Civil-service examinations were recommended for all candidates for forestry work and a schooling in a European school of forestry. The use of soldiers was not recommended, except for guard duty where there was danger of trespass.

"Owing to the inadequate appropriations, the plan has not been fully carried out. There are at present eleven forest districts, under as many superintendents, who have under them supervisors with a given area under their immediate supervision. Quite a force of rangers and patrolmen are also employed."

The members of the City Council held a conference yesterday afternoon to devise ways and means not only of held a conference yesterday afternoon to devise ways and means not only of increasing the revenue of the cky, but also to bring about a reduction in the current expenses which will diminish the size of the shortage in city funds. All the members were present except Councilman Baker. President Silver acted as chairman of the meeting. Chairman Toll of the Finance Committee made a statement of the present financial condition of the city. Referring to the report of the City Auditor, he showed that at the time that report was made up there remained to be collected as city faxes $105.641.35, and of this he thought a delinquency of not to exceed $15.000 could be expected. The amount of taxes to be, collected this year is $28.000 more than last year, and if all but the expected delinquency and if all but the expected delinquency of the city for the next two months and by reference to the available cash. Mr. Toll showed that after all present deman shad been paid only $3022.76 would remain with which to pay the expenses of the city for the next two months. He proved by these figures that here was great necessity for conomy in all the departments.

The question of spensing with the services of the en employed in the hand-sweeping the streets was presented, and alough the members expressed thems less as opposed to throwing any pringingmen out of work unless it was solutely necessary, the necessity of ease was considered such that there is no other course left open for the suncell. The board again took up the petition of the West Los Angeles Water. where any reductions can be made. A list of the departments was read and they were taken up separately, but in most of them it was conceded that there was no possibility for reductions in the number of men employed. The suggestion was made that the chain gang could be dispensed with for two months, and that it would result in a saving of $600 per month. This, too-was left for the Council to deads two

One of the members suggested that all commercial travelers who come to this city to sell goods made in other towns should be required to pay a license. Mr. Drain says he waited until after all the information Zeehandelaar wanted had been furnished him, and then he accosted him about certain remarks that had been reported to Mr. Drain as having been made at a meeting of the board of directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association by its secretary concerning the manner in which the street sweeping was being done. "I asked him about them," said Drain, "for I had intended to ask him what he meant, and this was the first opportunity I had to do so. He denied having made the statements attributed to him, but I knew he had made them and told him so. I told him further that if he repeated them I would slap his sheeny face for him, and I meant what I said. This man has been making mischief about the street sweeping ever since it was started, and although the Council and the merchants are satisfied, he has been trying to make light of our efforts, although he knows we are working under a limited appropriation."

in these contracts for months, and the matter appears to be no nearer a settlement than before. The committee has been unable to arrive at any satisfactory solution of the difficulty and the entire Council may be asked to take it up. The work on the bridges has not been commenced, and the time within which the work must be done, if the contracts are lived up to, expires May 15. There is not sufficient time between now and that date to complete the bridges, and the contractors want an extension of a much longer time than the Bridge Committee is willing to recommend.

The centracts have caused the members of that committee some concern before, because they assert that there is such a narrow margin of profit in the prices bid for the contracts that it is doubtful if the company can do the work and make any norms of the contracting firm were before the committee yesterday, and wanted to know whether their application for an extension of time would be granted, if made. There is a considerable difference in price to them if they are allowed to wait months instead of weeks for the completion of material, the eastern factories charging more for hurry orders than for those on which they can take their time. One of the members of the committee, Councilman Pierce, said yesterday that inasmuch as the firm had shown no disposition to commence work, he was opposed to granting any extension, and favored. Pierce, said yesterday that inashuch as the firm had shown no disposition to commence work, he was opposed to granting any extension, and favored proceeding againgt the contractors on their bond in event they did not commence work before the expiration of the time within which the bridges were expected to be built. The other members of the committee did not express themselves on the subject, but the other members of the Council made many inquiries about the matter. The bond furnished by the contractors to the city bears the signatures of Conrad Scherer and Simon Maier, the latter being in financial difficulties, from which he is fast recovering. The matter was not settled at the conference of the Councilmen yesterday, but will come up in the open session of the Council Monday.

All Citizens Have a Right to Use

City Clerk Hance yesterday received a communication from the Executive Committee of the Harbor Jubilee, asking that the members of that committee and their friends be permitted to use the Council chamber and the balcony in front of the City Attorney's office as a place from which to view the jubilee parade next Thursday. Before answering the letter which came to Capt. Hance in his capacity as custodian of the City Hall he referred it to certain members of the Council. The matter was mentioned at the conference of the members yesterday afternoon, and the question was asked whether the committee was desirous of having the exclusive use of the balcony on that occasion, and the answer was that such was the understanding. This privelege was opposed by a number of the members of the Council on the grounds that the Council could not consistently give the exclusive right to use the balcony to any person or body of persons. It was decided to suggest that the City Clerk, answer the request with the statement that the committee might use the balcony, but that its exclusive right to cony in front of the City Attorney's might use the balcony, but that its ex-clusive use by them could not be granted. Several of the members of the Council expressed the opinion that any citizen has the right to use the City Hall balcony for the purpose mentioned on any occasion,

ORDERED IT PAID.

Council at the last regular meeting donating $500 to the Free Harbor Jubilee, City Attorney Haas has advised Treasurer Hartwell that there is no legal obstacle in the way of the payment of the demand, provided there is money on hand with which to make the payment. The Treasurer will, therefore, pay it whenever the cash fund shall have reached a balance, which will certainly be before the end of the present week.

The reason for holding up the demand was that the Treasurer had some doubt as to the right of the city to make a donation for such a purpose. Treasurer Hartwell was in no sense opposing the jubilee or endeavoring to throw any obstacles in its way, but he had been informed that there was a law against such appropriations, and for that reason he referred the matter to the City Attorney.

Another Cash Apportlonment.

City Auditor Carson made another apportlonment of $15,000 yesterday among the standing funds of the city from the money collected as taxes since the apportlonment of the day before had been made. This had the effect of bringing all the funds to the right side of the ledger, except the cash fund, which is something like $22,000 behind. Another apportlonment of $15,000 will be made today.

Referred to Chief Moore

It having been called to the attention of Chief of Fire Department Moore and City Electrician Francis that the plans for the proposed new engine-houses do not make provision for the lighting of those houses, the matter was brought to the notice of the Council yesterday. It was stated that unless this correction were made in the plans, the city would be put to considerable expense later. It was decided to refer the whole matter to Chief Moore to make such changes in the specifications as will include the proper wiring of the new houses. It having been called to the attention trial yesterday before Judge Allen, sitting without a jury.

The action was on appeal from the Township Court, where the plaintiff firm got judgment, and was notable only for the curious turn taken by the defense. The allegations set up by the plaintiff were that on April 30, 1897. Mrs. Schooley made a contract with Bartlett Bros., by which she agreed that she would purchase a plano, and that she would pay $25 cash upon delivery, and $10 each month until $2.50 should be paid, with 10 per cent. Interest. It was averred until $250 should be paid, with 10 per cent. Interest. It was averred that she had failed and refused to pay the amounts due for the last eight and a half months, and on October 19. 1898, the plaintiffs had exercised their option under the contract, and declared it ended. The present suit for recovery of the plano, or the money balance alleged to be due upon it. was begun.

W. T. Williams, Esq., representing the defense, put Mrs. Schooley upon the stand to give her version of the transaction. She stated that her dealings had been with A. G. Bartlett. the ex-school director, and that it had been understood that the piano was to be paid for in room rent, at her lodging-house, the Great Western, on Main street. The witness said that Mr. Bartlett would occupy a room from two to four times each week, and very broadly intimated that he did not occupy it in loneliness. The on Main street. The whites on Mr. Bartlett would occupy a room from two to four times each week, and very broadly intimated that he did not occupy it in loneliness. The plano, she said, had been delivered in March, and not until the end of April had she been asked to sign any contract, and then Mr. Bartlett had explained that it was merely as a precautionary measure. Proceeding with her narrative, Mrs. Schooley stated that in October Miss Bepell, whom she supposed to be a young lady in Bartlett's store, took the best room in the house at $16 per month, stating that Mr. Bartlett had sent her there. The visits of the latter to Miss Bepell were quite frequent, save for Bepell were quite frequent, save for October, 1898, and then, so far as witness knew, went home to visit her parents in Dakota.

All of these payments for the room occupied by Miss Bepell, as well as the sums alleged to have been incurred by Mr. Bartlett himself, Mrs. Schooley contended, should be applied on the price of the piano. But Bartlett Bros. didn't see it just that way, and in the month that the landlady averred Miss Bepell surrendered her room. Bartlett declared the contract conded, and demanded payment of the full amount.

Whitney & McKeeby, representing mided, and demanded payment of the full amount.

Whitney & McKeeby, representing the biano-dealing firm, contended that if things had been as stated by Mrs. Schooley, and that Mr. Bartlett had frequented her house with her knowledge for immeral purposes, then the verbal understanding and contract which she set up in defense must put her out of court, as the law could not recognize any such immoral contract. Judge Allen held that to be true, and thereupon the underpinning of Mrs. Schooley's case began to give way.

But in the afternoon Mrs. Schooley again went upon the witness stand and practicelly took back everything she had said in the morning. She still con-tended that Mr. Bartlett had fre-tended that Mr. Bartlett had frequented her house, but as to any immoral goings-on, she knew nothing, and not knowing anything could not testify to anything.

Judge Allen quite plainly indicated which way he considered the law of the case to be, but as Mr. Williams desired to file some authorities, judgment was postponed.

Both charges were of burglary, the first being that of having broken into the house of Mrs. Martha Copsey, No. 520 Temple street. He there annexed two gold watches, two gold chains and a purse containing $2.05, the value of the stolen property being about $75 or $80. The other house broken into was that of Mrs. Agnes Odell, No. 731 South Broadway, where Leroy got away with only two finger rings. Both informations having been read to the defendant, he pleaded guilty to each.

"By the way, Mr. Leroy," queried the court. "do you belong to this part of the country?" and Judge Smith was politely solicitious. The defendant acknowledged to being a stranger in a strange land.

Lercy modestly informed the court that these cases were the exception and not the rule, and that he had been a hard-working man until this trouble. This, notwithstanding that the police have several other charges against him. Judge Smith proceeded to pass sentence, and ordered the defendant committed to San Quentin for five years, on the first charge, and for one year on the second, the latter to begin to run at the expiration of the first term.

WILL STILL FIGHT.

Dave Haney is Sentenced, but Will Appeal His Case. A criminal trial is not concluded these days until it has run the gamut of the Supreme Court; that is, if there is money enough forthcoming to carry on money enough forthcoming to carry on the legal war. Now that Dave Haney, who was convicted of grand larceny in having stolen a mare from Mrs. N. Duncan at Green Meadows, has been sentenced to five years at Folsom, his attorney is not content, but has given notice of appeal.

When the case was called yesterday Attorney Sanders, the defendant's attorney, filed his motion for a new trial. The grounds were purely statutory with one exception. Counsel contended that the court had erred during the trial in that the boy McIntyre had not been instructed not to testify to anything that might tend to incriminate himself. Mr. Sanders urged that the court had said that "he would see that the boy was not called to account for anything he might say while upon the witness stand," thereby opening the door for the witness to testify to any state of facts he saw fit, and then seek the shelter of the court's protection; and, furthermore, that in so instructing the court had exceeded the authority vested in it by the statute.

"The witness was a most unwilling witness," said Judge Smith, "was very friendly to the defendant, and would have been glad of any excuse to refrain from answering. If the court had left it to the witness he would have closed his mouth, and understanding the situation, the court said what it did. As the testimony turned out, there was nothing that tended to implicate the nothing that tended to implicate the boy."

"It was my understanding," responded Mr. Sanders, "that McIntyre made remarks that were somewhat contradictory, and that tended to point to himself as the offender."

"His testimony was the same as he made on the preliminary examination." volunteered Deputy District-Attorney McComas, at this point.

"Yes," answered Sanders, "but the boy stated that that testimony was given because Detective Auble promised him his liberty."

The new trial was denied, and Haney was told to stand up for sentence.

But even here the defendant's counsel intervened to say that his client had not been previously convicted of either sel intervened to say that his client had not been previously convicted of either grand or petty larceny, save in the one instance where he had pleaded guilty to stealing a can of milk. The pitifut fact was also alluded to that Haney has a wife and several children dependent upon him, who will be without a protector during his enforced absence. The court brushed these interpolations of counsel aside, for the court had knowledge of two burglary charges that had been dismissed on account of faultiness in the informations, and also probably because Dave Haney's name has in the by-gone days been a name to conjure with among the chicken roosts in this county, not to mention his record in Orange county, at all.

"The court cannot be moved by its sympathies for the wife and children," said Judge Smith, "If law is not observed then society will be disintegrated, and the strongest man will take and hold the most property, I —""
"I would wish to say," interjected Mr.

Sanders, "that, as a mere matter out side the record, it was the boy Mc Intyre who sold several horses to the

THE M'CAMISH MURDER. Deputy Ed McCamish was convicted on September 18, 1897, of having murdered his superior, Constable McCoy Pyle, at the Castac switch, and received the life sentence. In the following month Davis & Rush, the defendant's attorneys, filed notice of appeal, and on two occasions received thirty-day continuances in order to prepare their bill of exceptions. But that bill of exceptions has never yet been filed, and the appeal has consequently never been perfected, although it continues to be hung up in the Supreme Court. The Attorney-General is about to move to have it dismissed, and thus remove so much dead timber from the court of last resort. The defendant, McCamish, was retained at the County Jail until November last, when the certificate of probable cause was revoked, and he was sent north to Folsom, and began serving his term. A FIERCE TEMPER. Henry Howard, residing at No. 1816 East Ninth street with his family, was examined yesterday before Judge Allen on the insanity charge. The patient is a sufferer from locomotor-ataxia and partial paralysis, and walks with the aid of crutches. It speedily became apparent that Howard was perfectly sane, and that the strange actions complained of resulted from a very bad temper. He has a little home that is quite comfortable, and takes great pride in the garden. When he discovered that one of his children had broken the branch of his guava tree, he not only switched the little one unmereifully, but switched the mother when she sought to interpose in its behalf. Howard was ordered discharged, but Judge Allen gave him warning that if he does not behave better to his wife and family, and is brought before him again, he will find a way to remedy the trouble without sending him to THE FREYERMUTH WILL. The patient had been in Highland before, and was discharged about six monts ago, and his friends thought he again was shawing a relapse into the old condition. THE BETHEL CASE. The application of Earl Rogers, Esq. to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Luther Bethel, now being held for trial on the charge of adultery, was denied. No grounds were stated by the Supreme Court for denying the writ. The District Attorney rather regrets this refusal, for the reason that as the constitutionality of the statute is involved, he would have preferred this point definitely settled one way or the other, and possibly a large sum of money saved to the county.

RELEASED ON EXAMINATION. Sheriff Hammel has been notified that Frank Huston, the foot-racer taken to San Diego to answer the grand-larceny charge, was released by the justice after examination. It was alleged that Huston and his manager had "faked" a foot race last Sunday, and got away with $250. But it was said that not until after they had left San Diego was any protest made against the judge awarding them the race.

THE WRIT DENIED. In the matter of the application of Judge Trask for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Belle M. Gohn, the writ was yesterday denied. PLOWER PARADE LINE OF MARCH IS CHOSEN.

Speakers for San Pedro Celebration are Named and Arrangements Completed for a Reception to the Invited Guests—Additional Subscriptions Received.

Final arrangements for the Free Harbor Jubilee at San Pedro and Los Angeles next Wednesday and Thursday are fast being completed. The line of march for the flower parade in this city Thursday afternoon has been determined on, speakers for the celebration at San Pedro have been chosen, and the Reception Committee has made its plans for welcoming the guests at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday . Chamber of Commerce Tuesday and the Reception Committee has made the chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

The flower parade will form at Seventh and Main, streets, and from there move north to the Plaza. After circling this park the parade will proceed south on Spring street to Fifth street, where it will turn west, moving to Broadway, and then north again to First street, where it will disband. Among those who will speak at the literary exercises at San Pedro Wednesday forencon are ex-Senator Stephen M. White, Senator George C. Perkins, W. A. Harris, Judge S. O. Houghton, George S. Patton and Thomas E. Gibbod. Each of these men has been actively connected with the work of securing the breakwater, Judge Houghton having, while a member of Congress, secured the first appropriation for the dredging of the channel.

Los Angeles, in the business district, will present a magnificent appearance Thursday evening. Bunting and multicolored electric lights will be used in decorating the various business houses, and especially illuminated street cars will carry the bands of music which are to give concerts in various parts of the city. A continuous concert in front of the City Hall will be given by the Seventh Regiment Band.

The opening feature of the jubilee will be the reception to invited guests, which will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening. Arrangements were completed at a metiertainment will be particularly for the special guests to the celebration. Refreshments will be served and there will be a short musical programme. The members of the Executive Committee will acts as hosts and their visitors will be instructed regarding the two days' programme which is to complete the festivities. The expense of the reception will be borne by the Chamber of Commerce in return for the interest manifested by this body in the celebration, the Eexecutive Committee of the jubilee has passed a gesolution expressing its thanks to that commercial body.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Peter Jackson, the Colored Politi-

Peter Jackson, a well-known colored politician, and Cornelius Coleman, a white man, were arraigned in the Potice Court-before Justice Morgan yesterday afternoon on charges of disturbing the peace. Peter vows that he is one of the most peaceable men on earth, but the fact remains that when Policeman J. M. Baker entered the Anaheim saloon, on the northwest corner of First and Los Angeles streets, at 11:30 o'clock Thursday night, he found the eminent colored politician and the white man on the floor locked in each other's arms, and industriously belaboring each other without regard to Queensberry rules or the call of time. The two men had previously indulged in a few warm words and more or less liquor. During the exchange of compliments the white man had called Peter a black blankety blank, and then the real performance began, In the Police Court yesterday Peter was all smiles, and would fain have passed the matter off as a mere joke. He said that he and Coleman were only playing, and that they had accidentally fallen to the floor, but the policeman said that the scrap was the genuine article, and as the court considered him good authority, both defendants were found guilty. Peter's smiles vanished and he became serious. He said he had a hog ranch in the country, and only came to the city occasionally. He said that he lived all alone, and that if he did not get back to his ranch pretty quick the result would be disastrous, as there was no one there to care for the stock. He pleaded his case with such good effect that he secured light sentences for both himself and Coleman, the courtimposing a fine of $2 each.

Sing Lucy, who was arrested on Thursday by Policeman Neighbors for peddling vegetables without a license tice Court before Justice Morgan yes-terday afternoon on charges of dis-for the current month, and who acknowledged his delinquency before Justice Morgan, but excused himself on the ground that the license collector usually allowed him a few days grace when he was hard up, appeared yesterday for sentence. As he had secured the necessary document since his arrest, he was let off with a fine of $1.

The only drunk to grace the police docket yesterday was L. P. Lawson. He had been flirting with Bacchus on Aliso street, and fell into the clutches of Policeman Shand. It cost him $2.

The case of Ah Ching and Ah-Sing, charged with conducting a place for the sale of lottery tickets at No. 108 youth Los Angeles street, which has been on trial before Justice Morgan and a jury for the greater part of the past two days, came to a close last night by the jury returning a verdict of acquittal.

The trial of Mabel Morris, charged with petty larceny by Mrs. A. E. Bailey, was continued by Justice Austin yesterday until May 2 at 9:30 o'clock a.m. It is alleged that Miss Morris took some dress goods and a brooch belonging to Mrs. Bailey.

A Study of the Ideal Character

By Newell Dwight Hillis

"To live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury, and rejinement rather than fushion; to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich; to listen to stars and birds, babes and sages with open heart; to study hard; to think quietly, act frankly, talk gently, amait occasions, hurry never; in a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious, grow up through -this is my symphony."

WILLIAM HENRY CHANNING

"Looking out upon his age, he beheld young men crazed with a mania for money. He saw them refusing to cross the college threshold, closing the book, neg-

Gained 22 Pounds in 6 Weeks.

From the By-Stander, Macomb, III.

Alderman Louis W. Camp, of our city, has quite astonished his friends of late, by a remarkable gain in weight. He has gained 22 pounds in five weeks. Those of his friends of who, do not know the facts of his sickness will read with interest, the following. "I was broken down in health and utterly migrable." said Mr. Camp to our reporter. "I was unable to work much of the time and so badly afflicted with a form of stomach trouble that life was a veritable nightmare. "I tried various remedies, but during the six months of my sickness I obtained no relief. I had always been a robust, healthy man and sickness bore heavily upon me. "About two years ago I was advised to try. Dr. Williahs' Pink Pills for Pale People. I purchased one box and received so much tend to that I used five more and was entirely cured. I gained twenty-too pounds in, five weeks. Since I stoppet taking the pills I have scarcely had an ache or pain.

Good Common Sense.

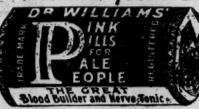

Common sense teaches us that a debilitated system cannot be built up by continued purging which reduces the strength of a body already weak-ened by disease. Most so-called blood builders are purgatives.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People do not act on the bowels. They build up the blood and strengthen the nerves.

Bear the name in mind and when you need a tonic, try the remedy which thousands of authentic cures prove to be most efficacious

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, THE BANKS WIN. In their ef-forts to check wild speculation in ininstrials" the conservative banks of he country are winning a decided ictory. In his letter on "trusts" the ecretary of the United States Treaswill duly emphasized the phase involved in these numerous new promotions and the clarger the general public runs in putting money blindly in them. The New York Stock Exchange has somewhat late, and no doubt influenced by the action of the banks and the utterances of Secretary Gage, taken the nozter up. Hereafter a good deal of difficulty will be experienced in listing new stock of this kind in the exchange. Any corporation seeking this privilege must submit exhibits duly verified as to the earnings of the concern for two years past, and must promise to furnish full and proper annual reports. It seems to be fair by rational mind, as if these means altogether would be likely to furnish a sufficient safeguard against the formation of wild schemes to float questionable stocks. That they will prove a sufficient safeguard against combinations in general is ouite another question. ved in these numerous new promo Tien-Tsin and Niuchwang. Consul-General Goodnow estimates that 597,000,000 pounds of our flour were imported at Shanghai last year, and the value of flour imported into all China was $1,-231,260. The imports in other lines were: Kerosene, 42,339,000 gallons; sheeting, 2.472,000 pieces; idrills, 1,-298,000 pieces; jeans, 105,600 pieces. It looks as if Mr. Denby, ex-Minister to China, was right, when he said if America sold only one cotton shirt a year to each of the inhabitants of the Orient, that commerce would be more than all our foreign exports at present. These neople may be poor as a rule, but 800,000,000 count.

THE CANDY COMBINE. That there has been a herculean effort made to form a cracker and candy trust can hardly be doubted. How far the effort has gone, and what condition the negotiations are in at this time cannot be stated, for no one knows excepting those interested, and they are as silver as the sphinx. The men who have toe matter in hand are people of much influence in this branch of trade, All they have vet given out is that as slight as the sphinx. PLATINUM MINING. The man who can invent a divining rod which will discover a platinum deposit may become a millionaire. This metal is used in making points for pens, and parts of nice instruments. It is found in only one place on earth. A recently published consular report from St. Petersburg gives the following interesting account of these mines:

"The Urals have been until now the only source from which platinum has been produced for the international market. Its part formed over $5 per cent. in the universal production of that precious metal. A small group of platinum mines, concentrated in the Verkhotursk district of the government of Perm, includes about seventy separate mines, of which only forty are either inactive or ainder investigation. During 1897 the production of platinum amounted to about six tons, of which seperate enterprises produced the following amounts: Mines of Count P. P. Shuvalooff. 1 ton 396 pounds; mines of Count Demidov San Donato, 1 ton 144 pounds; mines of Andreieff heirs, 188 pounds; mines of Andreieff heirs, 189 pounds; mines of hoenigsberger, 1008 pounds; mines of platinum from $798,250 to $154,500; a mine with a capital of several million francs. The price was fixed according to the productiveness of the mines, estimating a ton of platinum from $798,250 to $154,500; a mine with a yearly output of $65 pounds was estimating a ton of platinum from $798,250 to $154,500; a mine with a yearly output of $65 pounds was estimating a ton of platinum from $798,250 to $154,500; a mine with a yearly output of $65 pounds was estimating a ton of platinum from $798,250 to $154,500; a mine with a yearly output of $65 pounds was estimating a ton of platinum from $798,250 to $154,500; a mine with a yearly output of $65 pounds was estimating a ton of platinum the pr

From the above it is seen that there are only seven great platinum enterprises in the Urals, of which five have been purchased by foreigners. By the sale of these mines Russia has lost the advantages which she could acquire from platinum industry. While platinum mines were in the hands of Russians the whole of the raw material was sent abroad, and the income from the manufacture of platinum articles was manufacture of platinum articles was sent abroad, and the income from the manufacture of platinum articles was in the hands of foreigners. During later years the Russian platinum owners tried to get rid of the foreign purchasers, but the mines have now passed into the hands of foreigners. When one considers that no new veins of platinum, have been discovered during late years, that those now existing will soon be exhausted, and that no other platinum mines have been found in the Urals, one must come to the conclusion that the Russians have lost an important industry, and the only one which enjoyed a monopoly of the world's supply."

BUSINESS IN MEXICO. A Kansas City business man who has had much business with the people of Mexico, has this to say: "The money of Mexico is, silver. The rate of exchange (New York) now being 2.06; that is, a dollar of American money is worth $2.06 of Mexican money. This rate fluctuates, the rate given being that prevailing on the day the interview took place. White American silver is not wanted, it circulates on the same basis as American gold and paper money. In business transactions Mexican money alone is used, foreign money being exchanged for it. at the established rate. When American money is offered to a Mexican merchant he will tell the person offering it to go to a broker and get Mexican money for it. The Mexican merchant has certain established habits and methods of doing business. These he adheres to with tenacity. They meet the conditions that surround him, and in most instances are the same as were followed by his father, his grandfather and his ancestors generally, for as many preceding generations as Mexican dividication is years old.

The Belgians and the English are also strong factors in that market. In order to compete with these three nations—all other things being equal— the American merchant and manufac-

LOS ANGELES MARKETS.

LOS ANGELES, April 21, 1899.

Eggs are quoted variably now. Generally it appears the jobbing price is 16 cents, but some claim that it is 16 to 16½, while at least one house quotes 16½ to 17 cents. It is a matter of knowledge that some large handlers are selling at 16 cents straight.

Potatocs are unchanged. Reports from San Francisco quote $2 there for choice stock. That means nearly $2.25 An/store here, but this market is not yet drawing-on that, so it has merely a readying influence.

Obicans are weak, abut not quoted lower. Vegstables generally are weakening. Rhu-

STATE OF TRADE.

Dun's Weekly Review. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 21 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s

cekly review of trade will say tomorrow nat nothing appears in business or in coney markets to prevent continuance of the heaviest trade ever transacted at good that nothing appears in business of the heaviest trade ever transacted at good profits. The payment to Spain is supposed to have caused some rise in foreign exchange, which-would amount to nothing in any case, as balances due from other gountries mere than cover the payment and advance bills against the crop to come toward in July and later will soon beofered. Loans on industrial securities are still at higher rates than on railway stocks, but on good commercial paper or railroad stocks money is in ample supply and at low rates. Nor have stock operations caused any appearance-of pressure. The financing of new corporations has passed as a with less trouble than had been feared, though the completing of some organizations is hindered or has failed. The usual time for financial troubles in the spring has passed, and the usual alarm about crops has done its work, and still industries are undisturbed. The one hindrance in stock speculation is doubt about the crops but better unofficial reports have supported good inferences, warranted by the heavy receipts from the firms in the West and South. Farmers do not send wheat or cotton to market in large quantities when crops anywhere near them are extensively spoiled, Wheat receipts have been 7.511.343 bushe's, against 5,206.643 last year in three weeks of April, and the improvement since April 15 worthy of notice. Exports have failin off, amounting from both coasts to only 6,774.774 bushels, flour included, in three weeks, against 10.919,122 last year in three weeks of April, and the improvement since April 15 worthy of notice. Exports have failin off, amounting from both coasts to only 6,746.774 bushels, flour included, in three weeks, against 10.919,122 last year, and the price closes but half a cent higher than last week. Nothing but industrial depression is left to excite apprehension, but the industries against 10.919,122 last year as a bo held here fifteen months, fine wool, which there, while crossbred is so it cannot be imported. Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Bradstreet's tomornow will say that the general business situation is one of quiet, strength, while in industrial lines activity continues unabated. The universal testimony of damage to the strength of the offect on prices as yet, owing partly to improved weather conditions strengthening the oppes of a larger area in spring wheat, and also to good crop reports abroad and increased visible supplies as compared with a year ago. Products in some degree countribulances the falling-off in the value of agricultural exports, notably cereals and cotton, shown as compared with a year ago. For the month of March a drop of 18,060,000 in exports of the falling-off in the value of agricultural exports, notably cereals and cotton, shown as compared with a year ago. For the month of March a drop of 18,060,000 in exports of and mineral oils has been partly made up by a gain of nearly ten millions in other products, leaving the deficiency as compared with a year ago. To per cent. Imports reflect the increased purchashing power of the country, the total for March, in fact, being the largest exports, as a whole, are a little less than double the imports. In iroq and steel rew business is of even smaller proportion, notable exceptions, however, being in the line of wire goods and malls, on which prices have been very generally advanced. Quantimistic of the products, such as plates and bars, ev. n. higher quotations are asked. Mills and furnaces are reported crowded with business to delay placing their business for the latter forms are firnly held, while for march for the work of the products has been improved to delay placing their business for the latter forms are firnly held, while for march for the weak, but and the products has been improved to delay placing their business for the latter forms are firnly held, while the current demand from agents is light. "A high order of business interrity prevails throughout the republic failures being almost unknown. When ever—a rare occurrence—a merchant, firm or company fails, a good reason must be given for the failure. The law in this regard is very strict, and its requirements must be fully met. The consequence is that business is transacted on safe and conservative lines, and reckless methods. The Mexican merchant is careful to meet his obligament care taken to steer clear of risky, and reckless methods. The Mexican merchant is careful to meet his obligations as they mature, and sees to it that his credit is not impaired by any unbusinesslike procedure on his part. The fellure to recognize and make proper concessions to long-established business customs in Mexico has retarded progress of American trade in Mexican territory, leaving the advantage—commercially speaking—with the Germans, the Belgians and one year—it the rule. GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS

Grain and Produce.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 21.—Unexpected steadiness at Liverpool and rather light shipments from Argentine for the week gave wheat some strength at the opening. May started 4% higher at 744,674%, and advanced to 74½. Talk of scattered showers in the winter wheat country and selling by foreigners at the seaboard caused heaviness, and the proceed of the country and selling by foreigners at the seaboard caused heaviness, and the proceed of the country and selling by foreigners at the seaboard caused heaviness, and the proceed of 74½. The feeling was checked for a time on reports by a prominent statistician that the total yield for the year would be 150,000,000 bushels less than last year. On this report the market touched 74½ again, but on the emphatic denial of this by the Modern Miller started liquidation, and May was forced off to 73½, closing at 73%. July sold as low as 74½, and closed at 74%-674½. There was a noticeable falling off in crop damage claims during today's session. Receipts at the chief western primary markets were 329.000 bushels. Ogan declined under liquidation. May closed heavy and %colower. Heavy buying by shippers and elevator concerns on a renewal of the Laverpool rates, which were withdrawn suddenly yesterday, strengthened ones temporarily. May closed a shade lower. A good cash meat demand, together with the high price for hogs strengthened provisions early. Near the end, however, the advance was nearly all lost on account of the weakness in grats.

The leading futures closed as follows:

MONKEY BITES A CARTRIDGE.

He was an ordinary little Simian, as innocent of actual warfare as the members of the late lamented Seventh. He was surrounded with warlike implements, but here the similarity ceased. This little monkey was chained in a window on East Colorado street, today, amid Mauser rifles and loaded Mauser and Remington cartridges. Quite a crowd had collected in front of the window to gaze at his antics, when he picked up a loaded Mauser cartridge and, putting the end in his mouth, began to chew the percussion cap. Among the onlookers was an ex-army officer, and his statement that the monkey, if he bit that end too hard, would soon be in atoms, caused a hurried departure of the congregation. The owner of the monkey then removed from his reach the menacing cartridges, and soon snother croped was gazing at the little fellow's actions. The monkey and other curios were brought here by Private Lance of Steere's battery, just back from the Philippines.

Saloon Men Will Stop Contributions for Public Attractions.

SANTA MONICA, April 21.—[Regular Correspondence.] The recent action of the City Trustees in raising saloon licenses from $300 to $500 per year each promises to have an important bearing on the matter of local attractions. For a long time there have been band concerts on Sunday afternoon whenever there was pleasant weather. The concerts have been subscript on affairs, and the saloon men have contributed a liberal proportion of the cost. They have also responded to numerous other calls for contributions. Now there are several of the keepers of drinking places who say that they cannot afford to continue such contributions and at the same time pay the increased licenses. Some of the saloon men announce that they will cut off their contributions for attractions altogether, and there are others who say they will cut off their contributions for attractions altogether, and there are others who say they will cut off their contributions. A local paper, which is the organ of the city administration, is advocating daily band concerts, but is not telling where the necessary funds for that purpose are to be obtained, now that a considerable proportion of the expense of even the Sunday nusic is not to be borne by the saloon men.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 21.—[Regular Correspondence.] John Brown, Sr., familiarly referred to as the ploneer of San Bernar-lino ploneers, died last evening at his home on pioneers, aid last evening at his home in this city, in the eighty-second year of his age. He had been ill for a long time, and his death was not unexpected. The decased was a native of Worcester, Mass. He came west with his parents to St. Louis when a boy. He saw some lively times in the South, being present at the battle of San Jacinto, and witnessing the capture of Santa Ana. He hunted in the Rocky Moun-Santa Ana. He hunted in the Rocky Mountains for a number of years with Kit Carson, James Waters and others. He came to the Coast in 1849 when the gold fever was at its height, arriving at Sutter's Fort. His health failing, Mr. Brown came south, arriving in San Bernardino in 1862. Los Angeles county then extended to the Colorado River. Mr. Brown was the first to propose county division. In 1861 he secured a charter and built the road through the Cajon Pass, over which came all the emigrant travel from Utah and the East to this valley. Mr. Brown was always a Republican, organizing the party here in 1860, and by vigorous work carried the district for Lincoln. He is survived by a large family of children.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon under the direction of the Society of Pioneers, of which the deceased was president.

Money Appropriated for Harbon Jubilee in Another Form.

Jubilee is Another Form.

SAN PEDRO, April 21.—[Regular Correspondence.] The City Trustees have made another appropriation for the Harbor Jubilee and have done it in such a way that the warrant for the money is not likely to be objected to by the City Treasurer when it comes before him for approval. At a meeting of the board Wednesday evening four appropriations of $99 each were made. The several purposes for which those sums were allowed were for decorating the streets, for illuminating the streets, for building an ornamental arch on Fifth street, and for the distribution of lithographs. The board adopted a resolution about two weeks ago appropriating $400 for the jubilee fund, but the City Treasurer announced he would decline to pay the warrant, as he thought such action by him would imperit the interests of his bondsmen.

Another petition has been presented to the City Trustees asking that an electric lighting franchise be advertised for sale. The applicant is M. Ghriest, who made a similar request several weeks ago. He says that if he be the successful bidder he will have work on a plant started within thirty conthe more than the control of the reckerrying harror for the several month of the city for the completed within six conthe of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the reckerrying harror for the several ways and the deckhouse of the rec REDLANDS, April 21. — [Regular Correspondence.] The South Mountain Water Company's proposition, which was brought before the citizens with a great flourish of trumpets a few weeks since, has been abandbaed. There were too many people and too varied interests to be reconciled. Those having water and water-bearing land to sell in the Upper Yucsipe imposed too many conditions. Those was too high, others that the cost of conveying the water would be far greater than the estimate, and still others found other obstacles. The options upon the water and lands have now expired and the project has been given up.

Brotherhood Will Spend Money at Spook Point - Anti-Vaccination Cranks in Evidence - Coronado

SAN DIEGO, April 21.—[Regular Correspondence.] Yesterday's weather in this city broke the record for two years, and there has been but one day in the past twenty-eight years when the thermometer reached so high a point during the month of April as it did yesterday. At noon the temperature was 93 deg. and a hot desert wind was blowing. Early in the morning there was a light and cool fog, but soon after sunrise the desert wind began blowing, increasing the temperature and reducing the percentage of humidity. The latter went down to 7 per cent. from 100, and was considered by Observer Carpenter to be very remarkable. He explains the hot wind by saying that an area of high pressure extended from the San transitions. He explains the not wind by saying that an area of high pressure extended from the San Joaquin Valley southward to the Mexican line, which had the effect of drawing the hot air from the desert. The forecast last night was for fair weather today, but it will not be cool.

Important Decision.

SANTA ANA, April 21.—[Regular Correspondence.] Superior Judge Ballard today rendered a decision in the case of the city of Santa Ana vs. D. Gildmacher, an action brought to condemn a right-of-way for a sewer. The court's ruling has curtailed the scope of the pleadings so that now the value of the right-of-way, benefits and damages are the only issues left for a jury to decide, which includes the necessity for the city to take this right-of-way. Had the decision been favorable to the defendant throughout, the city's $65,000 worth of sewer bonds would have been declared illegal, and the city would have had no right-of-way for the sewer in the rear of the business blocks on Fourth street, between West and Birch streets.

It Proceeds to Settle the Everlasting Trust Question.

The members of the Sunset Club to the number of about forty sat down to their regular monthly dinner at Levy's on Third street, last evening, "Just as the sun went down," and after the usual toast to the President and the partaking of the viands, etc., etc., that were "hosped upon the groaning board," listened to a lengthy paper on the question of trusts by C. D. Willard, in which the subject was dwelt upon from the standpoint of economics, socialism, politics, etc. after the usual toast to the Presi-point of economics, socialism, politics, etc..

At the conclusion of the reading of Mr. Willard's paper. Judge Enoch Knight took a look into the matter under consideration, and not without many gloomy forebodings and a few lugubrious prophecies. The free-silver orator-preacher, B. E. Howard, next foined in the debate, dwelling more feelingly upon the fact of his being to preacher with some sort of hidden sorrow gnawing at his vitals, regarding The Times, than upon the business of trusts.

Abbot Kinney discussed the sub-fect, as did John J. Byrne, Senator Bulla and the club's president, Col. H. T. Lee. Mr. Bulla's remarks were of a more cheerful sort than those of the speakers who had preceded him, and they lighted up the Cassandra-like gloom of the theme like an electric spark. The subject having been exhausted, the trusts pulverized and the country saved, the club adjourned, previously, however, having accepted the invitation of the Twilight Club of Pasadena to break bread with that organization at the May meeting.

The warm weather of the past two days affected him unfavorably. He did not leave his bed yesterday, and there being a deathly stillness about his room, the landlady started an investigation and discovered that her lodger was dead. The pillow on which his head lay was saturated with blood, showing that he died of a hemorrhage of the lungs. Coroner Holland, upon being notified, had the body removed to C. D. FRIDAY MORNING CLUB.

Municipal Reform, Peace Congress address to the Friday Morning

Club this week was read by Henry T. Lee, on "Municipal Reform." The speaker considered the subject from a historical standpoint, dealing chiefly with the development of municipal government.

At the close of the discussion of the paper, Mrs. C. M. Severance, president emericus of the club, introduced a reso-lution approving the Czar's peace scheme, which was unanimously opted.

A communication was also read from e Woman's Auxiliary to the Civilrvice Reform Association in New rrk, asking women's clubs to unite a request for the retaining of the fil-service system. The yote of the abordered such a memorial indorsed deput to President McKinjes.

Fruit and Flower Festival.

A circular letter has been sent to the Masons of Southern California asking them to aid in making a success of the Fruit and Flower Festival which is to be held in this city in conjunction with the Free Harbor Jubilee. The entertainment will be held at Hazard's Pavilion from April 25 to 29, inclusive. Its object is to raise funds toward the building of the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home in Southern California. The letter requests all Masons and their families to visit the festival as often as possible, and to secure season tickets, which may be purchased for $1.25. A circular letter has been sent to the

The Shakespearean section of the Wednesday Morning Club devoted this week's study to Scene II. Act II of "Hamlet." Mrs. W. J. Montgomery read a paper on the question, "Was Hamlet Justified in His Treatment of Ophelia?" answering it in the affirmative

The current events' section of the club met Monday afternoon and reviewed public matters of interest in city and State, national and international affairs during the past week.
